Relatives of Late Rev. John Thompson Declare They Were Remembered
Will Not Be Contested; Value of Estate as Yet Unknown

Morgan Loses $340,000,000 by Declining to Accept Option on Plant

Declaring that all property interests of the Rev. John Thompson, who died at midnight Thursday in the East Bay sanitarium at the age of 86 had been settled shortly after his death, the relatives of the late minister today denied that there would be a contest over the estate, as all of his immediate relatives had been provided for.

Besides the widow who is at present stopping with her sister, Miss Theresa Sherwood, 937 Adeline street, other relatives are a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Brewer, and a grandson, Walter T. Kellogg of this city. It was stated that the old family home at 1352 Franklin street, where the aged minister lived with his sister prior to his marriage, had been settled upon the grandson and that a sale of the property had been consummated.

ALL PROVIDED FOR.

"I can see no possible grounds for a controversy or contest over the estate," declared Miss Sherwood today, "as my sister and Rev. Thompson's immediate relatives were handsomely provided for before his death. Just what the value of the estate is I have no knowledge at this time and I do not know whether or not my sister has, though I believe there is considerable property."

Strenuous opposition on the part of the relatives of the aged groom were unavailing in preventing the wedding. It was followed by a tour through the southern part of the state. The couple then returned to Oakland and took up their home in the Hotel Athens until the recent illness of the aged minister. Mrs. Thompson is now stopping with her relatives in Adeline street.

The funeral will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 from the First Methodist Church, Rev. George W. White, officiating. It will be under the auspices of representatives of the American Bible Society, for which concern the deceased was state superintendent of California for many years.

The clergyman was born in England and at the time of his marriage was said to be 92 years old, but this the relatives denied. He had lived in this city for the last 25 years. The remains will be interred in Mountain View cemetery. Through his connection with the Bible society he formed a wide acquaintanceship on the coast and as a pioneer in the work he will be chiefly remembered.

Wealthy Man Leaps From Train to Death

NEWTON, Mass., Aug. 12.—Eluding the physician and attendants who were accompanying him to a private sanitarium, W. I. Oliver, a wealthy citizen of Braintree, Mass., suffering from a nervous breakdown, jumped from a window of a passenger train last night and was instantly killed.

Aviator Escapes Injury When Monoplane Falls

CHICAGO, July 12.—The first accident in the aviation meeting this afternoon occurred when Arthur Stone in a Blériot monoplane, while attempting to rise from the ground, with a passenger, came to a sudden stop and fell to the ground from a height of fifty feet without injury to anyone.

Attempt Made to Wreck Fast Sacramento Local

STOCKTON, Aug. 12.—An attempt was made at Meed last night, shortly after 6 o'clock, to wreck the Sacramento local that leaves Stockton at 5:50. Three ties had been placed across the track in the open country by a Mexican, who was captured by Conductor Philbrick after the train was stopped. The Mexican, who gave the name of Silvera Pogelo, was taken to Sacramento. He said that he had been put off a train and wanted to get even. Meed is a small station between Galt and Elk Grove.

Agreement Is Reached on Campaign Publicity Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Agreement on the campaign publicity bill was reached today by the Senate and House conferees. The measure as agreed on will be practically the same as that adopted by the Senate, which amended the House bill providing for publicity in primary as well as other elections. The limitation of campaign expenditures to $5000 for congressmen and to $10,000 for a senatorial candidate will be retained. The conference will be submitted to both houses Monday.

Escaped Prisoner Is Still Under Cover

Guard Who was Shot at Time of Break at the Point of Death.

ANAMASO, Ia., Aug. 12.—A persistent search, carried on all night, failed to disclose the hiding place of Charles Smith and a man supposed to be his brother. Smith escaped from Prison Guard Hamaker near the penitentiary yesterday after the latter was shot and tied to a tree by two men, who came to the prisoner's aid. At an early hour this morning the indications were that Smith and his brother had escaped.

Hamaker was reported today to be at the point of death.

Rejected 12 Times, Young Man Then Shoots the Girl

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Because she had twelve times refused to marry him, August McDonald, a young machinist, shot Ethel Hunt at her home here last night and then sent two bullets into his head. McDonald died almost immediately, but the young woman, who is shot in the shoulder, breast and side, will recover.

Miss Hunt rejected McDonald's attentions for the last year because he smoked cigarettes. He threatened to shoot her recently if she would not marry him, but she did not regard his threats seriously.

No Relief From the Hot Wave in the Southwest

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 12.—No relief from the excessive heat which has prevailed in the southwest for a week is in sight, according to the United States weather forecaster here. Temperatures at 7 o'clock this morning seemed to indicate that yesterday's figures, which were above 100 all through Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma, would be equalled. The following temperatures at that hour were recorded: Kansas City, 80; Wichita, Kas.; Oklahoma City and Fort Smith, Ark., 78; St. Joe, Mo., 76; Omaha, 70; Fort Worth, Tex., 74.

ACCUSED OF WRECKING HOME

Husband of Woman in the Case Wounds Man He Has Arrested
Patrick Farley Enters Jail and Wounds J. T. Holland in the Back

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—In the presence of two guards at the City Prison at 1 o'clock this afternoon Patrick Farley, an insurance man of 1218 Bush street, shoe and seriously wounded Jas. T. Holland, whose arrest he procured at a late hour last night on a charge of wrecking his home.

Farley evidently went to the prison with an express intention of committing the crime. He asked to see Holland, who is charged with a statutory offense for the alleged assault of Farley's wife.

PRISONER INSIDE BARS.

The prisoner was brought to him and he talked to him through the heavy mesh which covers the bars. Farley was allowed only in the outer corridor, the prisoner being inside the bars.

They had talked for a few moments, when the turnkey, Benjamin Caskel, told Holland he would have to go and get his lunch. In giving the direction, the turnkey opened the door leading from the corridor to the prison floor proper.

SHOT IN BACK.

Policeman Clark, the floorman, was standing near Holland as the latter turned to go. At this instant, while Holland's back was turned, Farley leaped through the half open door, drew his revolver and fired, striking the prisoner in the back near the shoulder. The wounded man fell to the floor and the two officers seized Farley and placed him in custody. Holland was rushed to the Central Emergency Hospital.

Floorman Clark, who was the first one to catch a glimpse of the weapon in the hand of Farley, ran forward and seized his left arm just before he fired. As the officer grappled with him, he succeeded in pulling the trigger.

"I shot him because he lied about me," said Farley, and this is the only statement he has made so far.

At the hospital it was stated that Holland's injury was not very serious and that he would recover.

Following his arrest Holland said that he is innocent of any wrongdoing, and

Congress to Postpone Election of Senators

Bristow Amendment Cause of No Final Action Being Taken This Session.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—There will be no final action on the direct election of Senators at this session of Congress. The House and Senate conference committee failed to agree on the Bristow amendment, which extends federal authority over state elections. The House refused to yield on that. The subject will be considered at the next session of Congress.

Japanese Found Dying With His Throat Cut

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—A Japanese whose name has not been learned was found in a dying condition, with his throat cut, in a house at Eddy and Gough streets at 12:30 this afternoon. He died on the operating table at the Central Emergency hospital. Detectives from headquarters began an investigation to determine as to whether or not he was a suicide.

TRAIN AND WAGON CRASH

Sigmund Levy, Oakland Merchant, Hurlled to Street and Skull Fractured
Motorman Declares the Driver Paid No Attention When He Shouted Warning

ALAMEDA, Aug. 12.—Hurlled from his wagon by an eastbound electric train at Encinal avenue and Park street, shortly before noon today, Sigmund Levy, one of the owners of the Levy & Zenter Produce Company of Eleventh street, Oakland, received injuries which will probably result in his death. Levy was driving north on Park street when the accident occurred. Sounding his whistle and ringing the bell on his car, Motorman F. Jordan made an effort to stop the train before it collided with the wagon.

As soon as the train struck Levy was thrown from his seat and struck the pavement. He sustained a fractured skull. Dr. M. Brown, who was at the scene of the accident, summoned the police ambulance and had the injured man removed to the Emergency Hospital. Levy is more than 50 years old. The wagon he was driving was demolished. The horse ran away but was stopped by Superintendent of Streets V. M. Frodden. Conductor W. A. O'Neil was in charge of the train.

Motorman Jordan stated that he sounded the bell, but that the driver appeared to pay no attention to it.

WEEK RECORDS AN EXCITED MARKET

Reactionary Movement Continues With Little Interruption.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The week in the stock market was replete with excitement and the reactionary movement continued with little interruption. The list again yielded until losses ran as far as 17 points in some of the standard shares.

The government crop report was one of the many pretexts utilized to depress prices, and the announcement of the retirement of H. C. Frick from Union Pacific and allied bonds was accepted as partly explaining the weakness of the Harriman. Politics, disappointment over existing industrial and economic conditions and extreme probability of serious labor troubles on some of the leading transportation systems, was among the many adverse factors. United States Steel made a fairly good report for the week, and the announcement of the retirement of H. C. Frick from Union Pacific and allied bonds was accepted as partly explaining the weakness of the Harriman. Politics, disappointment over existing industrial and economic conditions and extreme probability of serious labor troubles on some of the leading transportation systems, was among the many adverse factors.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—W. W. Sweet, the local broker, indicted by the Grand Jury in connection with the alleged embezzlement of bonds of the Peoples Water Company of Oakland, pleaded not guilty in Judge Dunne's court today. It is probable that his trial will follow that of Alexander Baum, accused in the same connection, which will take place the last of the month.

that only the menace of a loaded revolver and fear that his life would pay the forfeit of his failure to do so, caused him to sign a confession of guilt.

"Farley told me that if I didn't sign the confession he would kill me," explained Holland, "and added if you come up in court and are dismissed I'll kill you in the court room."

In addition Holland says that he never forced his attentions upon Mrs. Farley but that his relations with her occurred about fifteen months ago when both he and the Farleys lived at 1131 Laguna street. He says that he and the woman were quite friendly and that he supposed her husband was jealous.

FALSE WORD CARRIED.

After he went to Los Angeles he claims that various means were used to decoy him back, one of which was that Farley had been drowned in the Sacramento wreck, the news being conveyed to him by a friend.

"When I entered the parlor of the home last night, I was ushered in by Mrs. Farley, whereupon her husband sprang at me, compelled me to sit at a table and forced me to write a confession, threatening me with death if I did not do so."

The Farleys assert that Holland robbed their home and assaulted the wife a year ago and immediately disappeared. When the case was called in the police

AMENDMENT FOR STRUCK BY TRAIN, FATALITY INJURED

Senate Committee Would Deny Commission Right to Determine Matters.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The Senate committee on foreign relations agreed today to recommend the ratification of the arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France as amended as to eliminate the paragraph conferring on the joint high commission of inquiry the right to determine what international questions are justiciable under the terms of the treaties.

The President has informed members of the committee, however, that he will exercise himself to the utmost to insure inclusion of this paragraph in the ultimate action of the same.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France were considered by the Senate in executive session today. The discussion lasted only two hours and was without result. Much opposition developed, leading some of the friends of the agreement to doubt whether they can be ratified at this time even in amended form.

MEN ARE DETERMINED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—E. S. Reguin, president of the western division of the shop employees, stated today that while it is true that the threats of a strike have been made against the Southern Pacific Company, nevertheless if the demands are refused at the local headquarters a committee of union men will be sent to Chicago to interview Julius Kruttschnitt, and if unsuccessful there they will go on to New York to make demands upon Judge Lovett, Harriman's successor.

An answer from the head of the system is expected within a month. If the company then refuses to recognize the union, Reguin said that more serious steps will be taken.

Reguin sent a telegram to Chicago today to Julius Kruttschnitt, director of operations of the lines, asking whether he would receive a committee of shopmen for conference regarding shorter hours and increased wages. The advisory board of the union at a meeting last night decided to assess members for the expense of sending such a conference committee East. If a refusal be returned by Kruttschnitt the men will proceed to New York and demand a right to be heard.

MAY NOT RAISE PIEDMONT TAXES

Aristocratic Suburb Finds It Has Overlooked Profitable Sources of Revenue.

PIEDMONT, Aug. 12.—The town trustees, headed by their chairman, Hugh Craig, are much perturbed over the discovery that it is too late this year to raise the assessed valuation of the property of Piedmont from $5,000,000 to $6,000,000, as they had hoped to do. The tax rolls for the year 1911 have already been fixed up, according to City Attorney James A. Ballentine, and nothing can be done in the matter before next year.

ASKED ABOUT CONFESSION.

At the hospital Holland declared that his conversation with Farley had been regarding his confession.

"He asked me if it was true, as the noon papers stated, that I had denied the confession made at the point of a gun last night. I told him it was true and I denied it, and I suppose that's what he shot me for."

The weapon used by Farley was a .41-caliber derringer of a similar size to the one used by Morris Haas in committing suicide at the county jail following the shooting of Francis J. Heney. The newness of the weapon, shows that after reading of Holland's repudiation of the confession, he went and purchased it. He then tied a piece of string around the diminutive pistol, suspended it beneath his vest so that the weapon hung underneath the upper portion of his trousers, and thus it escaped the watchful eyes of Turkey Cackell. All visitors are carefully scrutinized for weapons in their side or hip pockets, despite the fact that a grating would prevent them from handing anything in to prisoners. Farley thus cleverly avoided the confiscation of his pistol.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12.—John Fletcher Barber, a brickman, lies dead today as a result of fright, following a raid upon a Chinese gambling place last night. He succumbed soon afterward.

LABORER STRUCK DOWN BY PASSING AUTOMOBILE

Peter Luporer, a laborer, residing at 731 Fourth-street, was struck by a south-bound Grove street car about 8 o'clock last evening, at the corner of Thirty-eighth street, and was struck by a passing automobile driven by Ray A. Peterson of W. P. Fuller & Co. As a result of the collision Luporer sustained painful contusions of the right side and a few minor lacerations, however, Luporer escaped without injury, due, perhaps, to Peterson's presence of mind in reducing the speed of his machine the instant he saw it was going to hit the victim. Luporer was treated at the Receiving hospital by Dr. Devine.

POPE BETTER AFTER A RESTLESS NIGHT

Pains in Knee Continue, but Are Less Severe; Holds Long Audience With Cardinal Del Val.

ROME, Aug. 12.—At noon today the general condition of Pope Pius was described by his physicians as "relatively satisfactory." The pontiff appeared somewhat stronger. His temperature remained slightly above normal and the depression which has characterized his illness at times had not been entirely overcome.

This afternoon the pope in a conversation more prolonged than has been usual during the last several days urged Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, to go as he had planned to his villa at Monte Mario tomorrow. The cardinal had expected to be absent from Rome for the remainder of the summer and his illness wished him to take a rest, saying for himself that he felt sure of recovering from his sickness.

Dr. Petacci and Professor Marchiafava were at the pope's bedside for more than an hour this morning making another close examination of the patient. Attention was given to the kidneys, nothing unfavorable in this respect being discovered, except insignificant traces of calculi.

STAYS IN BED.

The pope did not get up this morning, explaining that he felt better in his bed than in the chair which he occupied at times yesterday. The pains in his knee continued, but were less severe. The swelling, which diminished yesterday, has since remained stationary.

The physicians were optimistic last night, saying that the patient showed marked improvement and predicting a complete recovery barring unforeseen complications, within ten days.

The pontiff, however, had a rather restless night and toward midnight make a big cut in prices without eyes wide open to the consequences."

Representative Bartlett asked Temple if he had read about the Gary dinner.

"You know, judge," Temple said, "I am a farmer now and my reading of the papers is limited. I read only baseball news for the last few days. I have been interested in the political news from Washington debating whether to change my politics from the Democrats to the Republican party because my party appears to have been handing me what I have and sell myself—temple."

Temple delivered a lengthy trust talk to the committee, describing good and bad trusts. He said the United States Steel corporation affairs had always been public, and that it had reduced prices to the consumer and had "held the umbrella over its competitors," rather than attempted to crush them.

Asked by Littleton what legislation he could suggest as a substitute for the Sherman law, he said he could not suggest a law, but he believed there should be some sort of government supervision of great corporations, and that "corporations should live constantly in a glass house."

Temple told of the existence of a structural steel association in the United States formed in 1897 and the steel shafting pool. He was confronted with a copy of the agreement of the structural steel agreement entered into in 1897. This agreement apportioned to its members a percentage of sales as follows:

The Carnegie Steel Company, 40-3-8 per cent; Jones and Laughlin, 12-7-8 per cent; A. and P. Robertson Company, 11-1/2 per cent; Passolo Rolling Mill Company, 6 per cent; Phoenix Iron Company, 5 per cent; Cambria Iron Company, 5 per cent; Universal Construction Company, 4-1/2 per cent; Pottsville Iron and Steel Company, 3 per cent; Cleveland Rolling Mill Company, 3 per cent.

NO REGISTRATION AFTER SEPT. 8

Two Holidays Reduce Time to Register for October Special Election.

September 8 will be the last day upon which voters may register in order to vote at the special election of next October. The law provides that the registration must close thirty days preceding the election. This would close the registration on September 10, but this date is a legal holiday.

September 9 is also a legal holiday, and the issue of 1904 was chosen President. The clerk Cook is awaiting the opinion of District Attorney Donahue as to whether the supervisors are authorized to employ additional deputies to assist in the registration.

WILL SELL BONDS FOR NEW SCHOOL BUILDINGS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—The finance committee of the board of supervisors agreed yesterday to recommend that $250,000 of the 5 per cent bonds of provide money for new school buildings.

The expectation is that bonds will be turned over to the treasurer to be sold "across the counter," which will make it possible, it is believed, for a contractor, with the support of some bank, to take the contracts and accept pay in bonds.

'PRESIDENT IDEAL' TOGO

Japanese Sea Hero Gives Impressions of America in One-Word Answers

Congress Is 'Grand,' New Gun 'Powerful,' Reception in This Country 'Warm'

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—President Taft is "ideal"; Congress is "grand"; the naval academy is "magnificent"; and American battleships are "excellent."

These are some of Admiral Togo's "impressions" of what he has seen during his week in America, as given to a newspaper interviewer in response to a series of interrogations. The admiral insists that interviewers submit their questions in writing. He goes over them carefully and answers them characteristically in his own cramped writing. Here are some of the answers which he has submitted since coming back to New York:

"What are your impressions of—
"The President?" "Ideal."
"The naval academy?" "Magnificent."
"Congress?" "Grand."
"Mount Vernon?" "Beautiful."
"American battleships?" "Excellent."

GUN IS POWERFUL.

"The new 14-inch naval gun?" "Powerful."
"The navy yards?" "Very good."
"American railroads?" "Very comfortable."
"American hotels?" "Up-to-date."
"Reception in America?" "Very warm, for which I am grateful."
"American newspaper photographers?" "Very enterprising."
"The official Japanese of President Taft's complimentary reference to the mikado?" "Very good."
"Will it further cement the friendship of the two nations?" "Cannot be otherwise."

GOES TO WEST POINT.

Admiral Togo and his party left here early today on the Mayflower, the President's yacht, for West Point, where the cadets of the military academy were scheduled to drill and parade especially for the Japanese visitor.

The admiral, famous as a disciplinarian, looked forward eagerly to the drills of the future army officers, as on his recent visit to the naval academy three classes of midshipmen were cruising abroad, and the commandant did not care to show the admiral the six-weeks old "plebe" or first-year men, only members of the academy on hand.

At West Point General Thomas H. Barry's program includes a formal reception to the Japanese and his party, luncheon, then the special parade, followed by an afternoon tea at which for the first time the naval hero was to meet some American women.

The Mayflower will return here tonight.

FRESNO, Aug. 12.—Unless steps are taken to furnish the writer with $500 before tonight the house of Thomas M. BATHING SUIT LAW MEETS SPEEDY END

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 12.—Mayor Dudley has vetoed the "standing bathing suit ordinance," which has created such a furor. Along with his veto went a specific message to the council with the draft of a new law, which the mayor wants the board to pass. This ordinance probably will be known as the "head, hands and feet" law, as it provides that any bather appearing in any public place, off the beach must wear a robe or coat covering the shoulders and extending to the ankles. The mayor also wants an official censor of bathers' costumes and a special plainclothes policeman will be appointed to watch the conduct of the bathers and their costumes. This officer probably will be known as the "flirt cop."

J. L. LEWIS DIES OF HEART DISEASE

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 12.—J. L. Lewis, 64 years of age, one of the most prominent lodge men in this city and secretary of Council No. 11, I. O. E. S., died this morning of heart disease. The funeral will be conducted from the decedent's home, 1128 Chumalla street, Monday morning. Requiem mass will be celebrated at St. Leander's church, interment being at St. Mary's cemetery, Oakland.

Lewis is survived by his wife, Margaret Lewis, a daughter, Margaret N., and three sons, John N., Manuel S. and Joseph S.

JAMES ROLPH JR. ISSUES STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLES

Candidate for Mayor of San Francisco Tells What He Will Attempt to Do if Elected to Office

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12. — James Rolph Jr., in a statement issued last night, declared the principles that would govern his administration of city affairs in the event of his election. His statement follows:

San Francisco, August 11, 1911.
To the People of San Francisco: I feel it incumbent upon me to declare to the people the principles which will govern my administration of the city's affairs if I am elected Mayor.

1. GENERAL OBSERVANCES.

I have made no promise of favor or positions. I will make none.
No appointments will be made for political reasons. Character, fitness and ability to produce results will be the governing influences in all selections.

2. CIVIL SERVICE.

Every effort will be made to execute the civil service laws in letter and spirit, and I shall use all the influence of my office to have these laws extended.

3. TO BE MAYOR FOR ALL THE PEOPLE.

The Mayor represents all the people. Officially he has nothing to do with the solution of industrial problems. He is the Mayor of the employed as well as the employer, and his oath is to enforce the laws of the city and State and administer his office in the interest of the entire community, and this I pledge myself to do.
I will represent no faction; as Mayor I will recognize none. I will labor for a united San Francisco.

4. INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS.

No one denies the right of workmen to combine for mutual assistance and the promotion of their economic interests. I know of no other way by which labor can place itself on equality with capital in business transactions involving wages and hours.

I shall use the whole moral influence of my office and my utmost personal effort to show both employer and employee that their interests and the prosperity of the city depend on the justice to one another which alone insures industrial peace.

The prosperity of the wage-earner is a necessary condition of general prosperity. The American workman can not properly fulfill the duties of good citizenship imposed upon him by our institutions unless he enjoys good wages and reasonable hours of service and can keep himself and those dependent upon him above the reach of anxiety. My sympathy has ever been and will be with labor's struggle for improved conditions. I have never belonged to any movement for purposes antagonistic to labor organizations, nor will I lend myself to any such movement in the future.

5. POLICE, FIRE AND SCHOOL DEPARTMENTS.

The Police, Fire and School departments charged with the maintenance of order, the protection of life and property and the education of our children, shall have my special care. It is essential that these departments shall be kept free from politics and that their respective members should feel that faithful service alone will make them secure in their positions.

I shall do everything possible to improve these branches of the public service, and, in doing so, shall take care that hours of leisure, so necessary for health, spirit and the vigorous performance of duties, are not abridged. The police will be required to enforce the law, but with as little harshness as possible, and with common sense.

No man is above or beneath the law, and before the law the administration will have neither friends nor enemies.

6. THE LIQUOR INTERESTS.

The liquor interest, which, on account of the license system, comes into close relation with the Police Department, shall be treated as any other licensed and legally recognized business. It shall be dealt with without discrimination. The law does not distinguish between this and other licensed business. Those who observe the law in any trade command its protection; those who break the law merit its punishment.

IMPROVEMENTS.

Taxation that produces no permanent results in betterments must be carefully guarded.

An overtaxed people is a crippled people.

The city that wastes the taxpayer's money, not only impoverishes the citizens, but destroys its own power of improvement, thus defeating progress.

In ordinary expenditure I believe in economy without parsimony.

In outlay for permanent improvements

the things purchased should be clearly worth to the city the sums paid, and their advantages should be certain.

The city should be cleaner, healthier and more beautiful.

Tunnels should be built, bringing all sections in close connection.

More schoolhouses are needed; more playgrounds; better paved streets.

We must have a city hall, one convenient for the conduct of public business. More than this, it should be a structure of architectural beauty and dignity, a building that will express the greatness and good taste of San Francisco.

Plans for such should proceed at once.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP OF PUBLIC UTILITIES.

The charter states: "It is hereby declared to be the purpose and intention of the people of the city and county that its public utilities shall be gradually acquired and ultimately owned by the city and county." I am in accord with the policy thus declared, believing that the intention of the charter should be made effective as rapidly as economic and financial conditions will permit.

The entire Spring Valley water system should be purchased. I favored this purchase when the proposition was formally submitted to the people. I will advocate it again at such a price as will give the people the worth of their money.

Adequate street railway transportation is at this time one of the city's gravest problems.

The greatness and success of a city depends, in a large measure, upon the facility with which the people are transported between their homes and places of work. A rapid and efficient transportation system extending to all parts of San Francisco is a necessity.

The street railway service must be substantially improved, and, as mayor, I shall exercise the full authority of my office to obtain from holders of existing franchises the best possible service.

I realize that more is needed than criticism that suggests no remedy, but whatever the law permits me to do to modernize street service for San Francisco will be done.

I have always favored the Geary street municipal road; I will do my utmost to expedite its completion. As rapidly as money can be obtained I shall favor its completion and extension wherever the law permits until it becomes a great municipal system. I favor the general principle that such amendments to the Constitution of the State and the charter of the city be enacted as will permit the city to grant indeterminate franchises whereby private capital may be induced to build street railroads on a plan by which the city shall share in their profits and the cost of construction shall be a matter of city record, the city to have the right upon their completion, to take over such roads at cost and interest, and providing for a reasonable premium in case the right of the city is exercised at a date closely following construction. If street railroads were built on this plan, they would operate only during good behavior and while giving satisfactory service to the public.

Until the city owns its utilities the charter vests in the Board of Supervisors the power to fix rates for water, gas, electricity, telephone service. I am in favor of fixing such rates as will be fairly compensatory to the corporations controlling these utilities and just and reasonable to the public.

HARBOR MATTERS.

Our city should come to a keener realization of its importance as a seaport, the city's greatest asset, and as mayor I shall aim to bring the united influence of our people to bear on all waterfront matters. Our bay will, commercially, be the Pacific terminus of the Panama canal. It should be made ready for that great purpose.

PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION.

During the term for which the next mayor is elected the great exposition will be held in our city. San Francisco will have the world as her guest. She must be a worthy hostess. She must merit the honor, trust and confidence that the Nation has reposed in her. The hospitality of California is a proud tradition, resting upon the magnificent generosity of the mission fathers, Spanish settlers and mining pioneers. This we must excel in our treatment of the stranger whom the exposition brings within our gates. All who come must be bound with ties of friendship to our destiny.

That I, as mayor, may be instrumental in spreading the fame of San Francisco to all mankind, though the Panama-Pacific Exposition, is my fondest ambition.

RESIGNS FROM THE COMMISSION

FLINT QUILTS MONETARY BOARD

FORMER UNITED STATES SENATOR FRANK P. FLINT, who has resigned from national monetary commission.

Former Senator Said He Did Not Have Time to Finish Work Required

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Following Senator Bailey's resignation from the National Monetary Commission, Vice-President Sherman received today a telegram from former Senator Flint of California, announcing his resignation from the commission. No reason was given for the decision.

A vote will be taken by the Senate at 1:45 p. m. Monday next on the Cummins bill, providing that the National Monetary Commission make its final report December 4 next and then be dissolved.

The suggestion to have a vote taken on the bill Monday was made by Senator Burton of Ohio and was agreed to unanimously. Senator Burton will offer amendments to the bill providing that the commission be given until January 10 to report, and that it be continued, but that no salaries be paid to members of the commission who are no longer members of Congress.

"BUSINESS," SAYS FLINT.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12.—"Business engagements prevented me from giving to the Monetary Commission the time it holds necessary for the work. Therefore I resigned."

This was the only statement former Senator Frank P. Flint would make today relative to his telegram to Vice-President Sherman resigning from the National Monetary Commission.

AVIATORS OF WORLD TO CHASE ELUSIVE RECORDS

Thirty-Five of the Greatest Birdmen Ready to Fly at Chicago's International Meet Today

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—A dark, dismal morning, with frequent thunder showers, threatened to mar the opening of the international aviation meet here today. In spite of assurances by the United States observers that nine days of fair weather and clear skies were due, the present outlook is that but few flights can be made before tomorrow.

Nevertheless the thirty-five aviators, the best known in this country and Europe, were up at daylight, making their final preparations, evergreening the preparation of their machines and assuring themselves that no mechanical defect would prevent their having a fair trial for $80,000 in prizes to be given.

The meet will be the first big demonstration the middle west has seen and is to be a genuine competition, not a mere exhibition of flying. It will embrace races and contests every day, contests in midair, in flying over prescribed courses, in quick stopping and starting, in duration of flight, in alighting, in maneuvering, in passenger carrying and in such other like developments as sending messages and dropping bombs.

The program was framed to give every kind of flying machine an equal chance at the prizes, whether it was built for endurance, stability, lifting power or ease of control.

Aviators declare there is every likelihood that many records will be broken. All of the better known machines, both monoplane and biplanes, will be pitted against each other, the aviators, many of them record holders, will have the incentive of seeing their rivals in the air and the prizes themselves have a sufficient value to warrant the utmost effort.

The first races scheduled today will be the speed test for monoplanes. The machines are due to rise in the air at 3:45 o'clock. At 5:20 o'clock the biplanes will rise for a passenger carrying speed test. From 6 to 7 o'clock there will be altitude tests for all of the machines together, with cross-country and over-water races. There also will be passenger carrying exhibitions and exhibitions of the hydro-aeroplane and other air craft.

A minimum of $1 a minute will be paid each aviator for the time he actually is in the air. This is in addition to the prizes and other rewards and prescribed courses. To insure daily flights and prevent disappointments, rain ceased early in the afternoon and a successful trial flight having been made despite the muddy grounds which made starting difficult, it was announced that the big aviation meet would be carried out today as scheduled.

Stemmed Flood of Traffic Released in British City

LONDON, Aug. 12.—London is almost itself again today. A few hours after the official announcement that the strike had been settled last night had sufficed to release the flood of traffic which had been held up for two or three days and supplies were rushed out to replenish temporary markets and stores. It is estimated that the week's strike of the dockmen and carriers has cost the metropolis at least $7,500,000. The carmen employed by two railroad companies claim to have private grievances and refuse to return to work under the general settlement. They threaten to paralyze street car traffic.

The bodies of the four men were swept away, but stranded lower down the river and its occupants were rescued. The names of the five drowned men have not been received here. This makes a total of nine drownings since the beginning of operations on the railroad construction from Hope northward.

SAYS FRIEND MADE HIM 'FALL GUY' IN DIVORCE

Accused Affinity Says He Is Tool to Save Property of Husband.

DRAWN INTO CASE, FINDS IT'S NO JOKE

Marital Troubles of Dentist Leak Threatens Sensations From Co-Respondent.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—According to Dr. George W. Leek, being sued for divorce in the local courts, of deliberately naming him as a co-respondent in fabricating a defense in an effort to save his property, Professor E. S. Bonelli yesterday filed his answer in the county clerk's office to Leek's cross-complaint. In the deposition, prepared by Attorneys Duke and Westfield, Bonelli vigorously denies the charges made by Leek, and in which he accused him of being Mrs. Leek's affinity.

The professor's answer to the cross-complaint fairly bristles with accusations of double dealing. Bonelli charges that Leek made himself very aware of the best of friends with Leek, and that he invited him to his residence in McAllister street, sometimes as often as twice a week. Never, declares Bonelli, has he had the Leek home without being invited by the doctor.

THOUGHT DOCTOR JOKING.

According to the allegations made in the answer, Bonelli met Leek on the morning of June 14 last, the day on which the divorce papers were served on him. Dr. Leek proposed that they go to the theater in the evening and take supper at the bill. Leek further said to his attorneys that the first dinner that night was paid for by himself, although the divorce papers were served on him. Bonelli alleges that Dr. Leek on the first time that his wife, in suing him for divorce, threatened him from disposing of his property.

GUEST PAID BILLS.

After the performance, Bonelli says, Leek invited him to an after-theater dinner. The professor says that Leek, when the waiter presented the check, was looking the other way and that he had to pay the bill. He further said to his attorneys that the first dinner that night was paid for by himself, although the divorce papers were served on him. Bonelli alleges that Dr. Leek on the first time that his wife, in suing him for divorce, threatened him from disposing of his property.

PROFESSOR MADE CO-RESPONDENT.

"My property is all tied up," exclaimed Leek upon meeting Bonelli that day, according to the deposition.

"I can't let her have half my property," Leek is alleged to have continued. "I must have some sort of a defense. By George, I'm going to put you in it."

Bonelli says he was reconstituted with his friend the doctor, and he wouldn't drag me into the proceedings," he said, according to his story.

"I have a defense," said Leek. "I know there is nothing between you and my wife. I have a defense, and I must save my property."

Bonelli told his attorneys, Duke and Westfield, that he thought Leek was joking, and when on July 30 Leek filed his cross-complaint to Mrs. Leek's divorce action he was taken entirely by surprise.

WIFE MAY AMEND BILL.

The clandestine meetings alleged to have taken place between Bonelli and Leek, in the latter's town house, which in separate statements by the music teacher. Taken as a whole, the deposition sworn to by Professor Bonelli declares that he was not more than a casual friend to Mrs. Leek, brought on by his numerous visits to the Leek residence through the many invitations of the doctor.

It was said yesterday that Mrs. Leek may file a cross-complaint against her near day in which she will accuse her doctor husband of many things not mentioned in the original divorce proceedings.

SCHOOLS and COLLEGES of OAKLAND and Vicinity

N

O section of the world over is the favored than Oakland and Alameda county in the quality of educational advantages offered to its younger generation. Coming from the east and middle west the pioneers brought with them, deep in their hearts, that hunger for education which particularly distinguishes the American people.

Obedient to the need of the new country, schools sprang up and today we are reaping the benefits of the foresight of the far-seeing pathfinders.

It is a matter for congratulation that the private schools and colleges hereabouts, so much like the old New England academies and schools, offer such excellent instruction, and that they are under the control of a body of men and women, high principled, devoted, capable, of whom the community may be thoroughly proud.

While they may differ in their methods, the ideal of each is to give to each student his or her influence that personal touch that alone brings out the best of which the individual is capable and to have behind them bright traits of good citizenship.

It is a matter for congratulation in possessing within its borders two of the most highly developed business colleges in the west. In proof of the fact one has to but glance at their roster of students to discern from what great geographical differences the student body of young men and women has been gathered.

Excellence and thoroughness in the scholastic course, coupled with favorable climatic conditions and the local air of culture and refinement, have been the lodestones that have drawn the thousands of students Oaklandward.

A school where illustration, painting, pottery and all of the fine arts are taught is the California School of Arts and Crafts, in Berkeley, a school where the young man or woman with creative talent is given the essential technical training without which success in life is impossible. They open this year with a very large attendance, particularly from outside districts, due no doubt to the excellent standard of scholarship maintained.

St. Matthew's school was founded in 1868 by the late Rev. Alfred Lee Brewer, D. D., and is completing its forty-fourth year. It is situated about two miles from San Mateo, which is noted for its beauty and seclusion.

While announcements of these various schools appear from time to time in the columns of this paper, THE TRIBUNE desires at this opportune moment to add this word editorially concerning the institutions represented on this page, and to present them for your earnest consideration.

The Berkeley preparatory school was located in Berkeley so that its pupils might take advantage of the remarkable opportunities which are afforded by proximity to the University of California, with its libraries, lectures and other collegiate activities. Principal White of the school has a wide reputation as an instructor and the pupils of the school profit by the instruction for the school purposes.

In the Berkeley foothills, within a short walking distance of the university, with its advantages for cultural training, is Snell's Seminary for Girls, conducted by Miss Edna Snell Poulson.

at 2721 Channing way. This school its graduates for the university or for the social station to which they aspire, and the location in the Berkeley foothills insures healthful recreation in the open air, walks and excursions at which nature study may be conducted most successfully.

A school which profits wisely by its juxtaposition to the University of California is Boone's university school at Berkeley, which has held its front rank as a preparatory school for 30 years. The head master of the school is P. R. Boone, a prominent educator of the State, who has been notably successful in the training of boys for college and to take their place in the world.

Boone's has a strong tradition of school spirit, an athletic record of which its successive classes are proud, and a high standard of scholarship, which is stimulated by its nearness to the university. Professor Boone gives his full attention to the pupils, studies their personal needs, and has made the school entirely successful.

T. C. SEAWARD UNDER ARREST

Prominent Union Labor Man
Accused of Extortion by Theater Manager.

FRESNO, Aug. 12.—Thomas C. Seaward, vice-president of the State Federation of Labor and for many years secretary of the Fresno Federated Trades Council, was this morning arraigned in the police court on a charge of extortion, preferred by Cole C. Salling, proprietor of a local vaudeville house. Bail was fixed at $500.

Seaward announced that he had made no arrangement either for bail or for attorneys and was accordingly locked in a detention cell in the county jail.

The charge of extortion was based on Seaward's action last Tuesday night in calling off the stage hands at the S. and C. Theater and thus, it is alleged, delaying the performance until Salling paid him $25.00, alleged to be due Agnes Burr, an actress, whom Salling charged as incompetent after her first appearance of a four days engagement.

Seaward declared that he received instructions from the State Federation of Labor to collect the money.

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 12.—The private car in which Walter L. Fisher, Secretary of the Interior, and his party of engineers and newspapermen are traveling from the northwest, was out off from the train at the Union Station at an early hour this morning and for several hours remained undisturbed while its occupants slumbered following their arrival from Provo. A banquet last night at the Provo Commercial Club was the climax of a strenuous two days' overland trip through the Payson and Strawberry valleys.

Today Secretary Fisher met the State land commissioners and the federal land officials here. The conference was brief and informal. Later, as the guests of the Commercial Club, Secretary Fisher and his party rode through the city in automobiles, attended a special organ recital at the Tabernacle and took luncheon at the Commercial Club rooms.

Director N. H. Newell of the Government reclamation service, who has accompanied Fisher thus far on his western tour, left the party last night at Provo, returning east.

HERRIN RETURNS FROM LONG TRIP

Chief Counsel of S. P. Denies Reports of Sale of Associated Oil.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—Well primed with emphatic denials of any matrimonial or oil deals, William F. Herrin, vice-president and general counsel of the Southern Pacific, came back to town yesterday from Europe. In the five months he had been away gossip had been busy with both his business and heart affairs.

He went direct to his Broadway home, where he set at rest the stories that his European trip was in furtherance of the sale of the Associated Oil Company's properties to English capital and that his return to San Francisco would be followed by his marriage.

"I can't imagine where the latter story originated," Herrin said. "The first I knew that gossip in San Francisco was trying to marry me off was when some of my friends sent me the San Francisco papers."

A similar denial was made in connection with the reported part Herrin was to play in the deal for the sale of the Southern Pacific Company's oil properties.

Shortly before his departure for Europe the announcement was made and confirmed in a measure, that the interests of the Associated Oil Company, a Southern Pacific holding, were to be disposed of to an English syndicate, whose agents had been negotiating for the properties for several months.

That a deal was on was borne out to the satisfaction of the oil people by the movement of Associated Oil stock on the market, and by information from the "inside."

Then there came a hitch in the deal. Just about the time this became apparent William F. Herrin left for Europe, to clear the way, as was said, for a consummation of the big transaction. In denying all knowledge of any deal Herrin said:

"My trip to Europe had nothing to do with an oil or any other deal. It was simply one of pleasure."

Accompanying Herrin on his trip was M. P. Michaels, San Francisco attorney. They made an extended auto trip through Northern Europe, down to Paris and then through Austria and Germany, where they embarked for home.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE Between Promises and Actual Results.

Herpicide won't overcome hair trouble. The manufacturers of Newbro's Herpicide promise nothing which is not justified by an intelligent use of this preparation. The desired end ultimately becomes an accomplished fact. This is the reason that Herpicide has thousands of satisfied friends all over the world.

By keeping the scalp clean and healthy and destroying the dandruff germ, Newbro's Herpicide makes beautiful hair. Herpicide prevents the hair from falling and allows it to grow unhindered and naturally except in cases of chronic baldness which is incurable.

One dollar size bottles are guaranteed by all druggists to do these things.

Send 10c in postage for sample and book to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

Applications obtained from druggists.

Triumph of British Democracy.

The passage of the Morley resolution in the British House of Lords on Thursday, receding from the amendments tacked on the bill passed by the House of Commons depriving the Lords of the right of vetoing "money" bills originating in and adopted by the popular branch of parliament, is not only the greatest triumph achieved by democracy in Great Britain since the passage of the reform bill in 1832, which broke down the monopoly of the aristocracy and landed classes enjoyed and admitted the middle classes to a share of the lawmaking power, but it is also the greatest achievement by democracy since King John was compelled by the English barons at Runnymede on July 15, 1215, to sign Magna Charta. That "great charter" has been described as the "palladium of English liberty, on the ground that it subjected the crown to the will of the community of the whole land." In fact, however, Magna Charta subordinated the reigning monarch to the will of the baronage only. The common people were mere vassals, or bondsmen, of the barons and the latter monopolized restraining authority over the conduct of the crown.

The reform bill of 1832 gave the middle classes of the United Kingdom a voice in governmental affairs and thus broadened the sphere of popular representation. Since then the franchise has been extended by acts of parliament so that a large proportion of the lower and wage-earning class has been granted a voice in the shaping of legislation. The abolition of the veto power of the House of Lords which was accomplished in Thursday's vote is the direct result of this extension of manhood suffrage.

The action of the House of Lords last Thursday surrendering the veto power over "money" bills marks, on the face of it, the end of a fierce two years' parliamentary struggle which followed the rejection by the peers of a budget adopted by the Commons which imposed a direct tax on land for the raising of revenue to support the government. The tax was limited to land other than urban. But it applied to the great rural estates held by the British aristocracy, constituting a small minority of the population of the United Kingdom, who had hitherto escaped taxation by saddling the burden of supplying government revenues on the consumers of the necessities and modest luxuries of life—the common people. By the old system of taxation, the lowliest and poorest subject in the kingdom who smoked a pipe of tobacco, drank a glass of whisky or a cup of tea or coffee or a mug of beer or consumed an ounce of sugar, or paid a rental on the house under whose roof he and his family was sheltered, contributed his mite toward the maintenance of the costly army and navy protecting the British Isles, while the vast estates of the small number of titled and landowning gentry, representing the main bulk of the national wealth, escaped taxation, except through the income tax. The dukes, earls, marquises, lords and barons, constituting the membership of the House of Lords and representing the bulk of the vested realty interests in the United Kingdom, revolted against the innovation which called upon them to pay a fair quota toward the military and naval protection of their property. Hereditary exemption and privileges have, however, been destroyed by the surrender of the lords of the right they have hitherto exercised to veto bills relating to the raising of revenue from any source and the people, through that representative body, the House of Commons, are now in more supreme control than they were during the time of the Cromwellian protectorate.

The peers fought against the new reform on the ground that it predicated home rule in Ireland. That has all along been a false cry to obscure the real issue that their own lands were to be taxed to support the government and to relieve the distress of the poorer class of society through the old age pensions and other benevolent measures providing for the welfare and protection of social groundlings. Home rule is a mere incident in the contest and is sure to come, not only to Ireland, but also to Scotland and Wales.

It is a fact worthy of special note, moreover, that the triumph of British democracy is the direct result of the teachings of a California writer, the late Henry George, relating to the taxation of land and the unearned increment. Stripping the House of Lords of the veto power over "money" bills means that the next move in the levying of taxes for the maintenance of the British government will be directed against urban land and will be applied to the immensely valuable properties of the Duke of Westminster and other peers in London and other large cities which represent the unearned increment due to the growth and intense congestion of population in the larger municipalities.

The dweller in the bay cities has real cause for thankfulness for the cool foggy weather he is enjoying these days, when he reads an account of a torrid wave sweeping through the central part of the continent and Atlantic States ranging from 92 degrees to 106 degrees in the shade and that a corresponding wave is visiting the British Isles and Germany. The weather has been so intensely hot and sultry in London during the past two days that the House of Commons held a shirt-sleeve session, and, in the courts, judges and barristers discarded wigs and gowns in order to secure a modicum of comfort. In Germany the great heat is reported to be drying up the streams and navigation on the Rhine and Elbe has been suspended owing to the shallowness of the water, which is lower than it has been at any previous time since 1811. Berlin sweltered yesterday with the thermometer at 99 degrees in the shade.

Oakland's bank clearings have started on the upgrade again as the result of the revival of business in general and increasing activity in the building trades and local industries. This week's clearing-house report shows that Oakland's bank clearings amounted to $3,758,000, being a gain of 22.7 per cent over the clearings for the corresponding week last year.

The British House of Commons has destroyed another ancient tradition of that popular branch of parliament by passing a bill providing for the payment of a salary of £500 per annum to each of its members. The Commons is the only national legislative body in existence that does not compensate its members with fixed salaries. Formerly, the honor of membership was deemed to be ample compensation by candidates for election. But when the Laborites and Socialists of England and Wales and the Nationalists of Ireland broke down the barriers which wealth and tradition had erected around the Commons, social caste was destroyed and poor, brainy men gained admission. But these had to be supported by their constituents who made personal sacrifices in order to carry the self-imposed burden. The House of Lords may kick against the innovation, because it permanently destroys the old-time exclusiveness of the House of Commons as a chamber in which the younger sons of hereditary titled families have a chance to win fame and political advancement; but, the kick will be in vain, for the "common people" in Britain are certainly in the saddle today, more firmly seated than they ever have been before.

Democracy in Theory and Practice.

"Clean Democracy and constructive statesmanship sustained a distinct loss in the death of Edward M. Shepard," says the Santa Rosa Press-Democrat. Mr. Shepard was certainly a man of high character and great ability, but the Democratic party never availed itself of his talents. It would never nominate him for Governor and it refused to elect him Senator when the opportunity offered. He was defeated when he ran for Mayor of Greater New York. He was given the nomination by Tammany when Tammany's offenses against public decency had made it impossible (at that time) for a Democrat to be elected, and the weight of Tammany's infamy dragged him down to defeat. But when the Democrats elected a Legislature in New York Tammany refused to allow Mr. Shepard to be elected. Tammany tried in vain to elect "Blue-eyed Billy" Sheehan, and finally elected O'Gorman to prevent Shepard from going to the Senate. Oh yes, "clean Democracy and constructive statesmanship sustained a distinct loss" in the death of Mr. Shepard, but the Tammany Democracy of New York does not want cleanness and constructive statesmanship. An organization that suffers itself to be led and controlled by Charlie Murphy and puts to the front such men as Timothy Drydollar Sullivan, Tom Grady and Fatty Walsh has no use for men of Edward M. Shepard's type. Men of the Shepard stamp are employed only as decoy ducks. When places of honor and trust are to be filled an altogether different class is drawn upon.

The Mayor of Piedmont is seeking to have the assessment of property in that exclusive burg largely increased. The object is, of course, obvious—namely, to collect more revenue to carry on an imperfect government and inadequate public service departments, and maintain the fiction of a low rate of taxation. Popular sentiment in Piedmont is naturally strengthening in favor of consolidation with Oakland in order to dispose of its political isolation and to enjoy in future the fullest degree of police and fire protection, free drainage, increased public school facilities and other public utilities of which it is now either wholly or in part deprived.

The laying of the corner-stone of Oakland's new seventeen-story city hall building and the turning of the first sod on the site of the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco will constitute two incidents of historic interest during President Taft's coming visit to the Pacific Coast, as he will constitute the central figure in both events, if the plans of the exposition directors and those of Mayor Frank K. Mott are carried out.

NEW ENGLAND'S PROGRESS

The lament which were heard twenty years ago about the decadence of New England have long since died away, and in their place is heard a more cheerful note of progress and prosperity. It is almost a century since Daniel Webster pronounced the fact that the prosperity of New England was passing away, and for fifty years after that time there was evidence on every hand that his prediction was coming true, but the New England spirit has plenty of energy even when it seems supplanted, and the day came when the dwellers in the six states realized almost simultaneously what had to be done, and did it.

Out of a soil whose stubbornness and sterility had been a byword, out of the stony hills and out of the streams long given over only to pleasure craft or as subjects for the painter, the New Englanders have in a scant twenty years won back much of the prestige which once was theirs as successful agriculturists, herdsmen and manufacturers. The abandoned farms which once formed so serious a problem to New England's advancement are now in great demand again. Not only are they bought as summer residences at greatly advanced prices but practical farmers have obtained thousands of them, and by means of the new agricultural science, as taught at Washington and in our state universities they have made them profitable investments.

That these are not mere experiments of "gentlemen farmers" is shown by the returns of the statistical departments of the various states. In ten years the agricultural produce of Massachusetts increased 21.03 per cent; showing a total of $64,000,000. Maine's potato crop is exceeded only by four other states. In tobacco Connecticut stands the eighth producer in the union, Vermont and Maine together have a hay crop topped only by six other states. The sheep industry in New England is again reaching its greatest former point. The streams have been harnessed and the power thus developed is running more spindles than ever before were used. —Chicago Tribune.

HELPS TO BETTER FARMING

A praiseworthy movement is afoot to establish the city man advantageously on farms; but what is to be done toward helping the farmer himself? He often needs help. Even with improved communication he frequently remains aside from the modern advance. He is nature's own conservative. From one reason or the other, or both, he is not likely to succeed in putting recent discoveries to good use.

These conditions are to be met by the incorporation of the National Soil Fertility League, which starts with a membership of distinguished names representing all sections of the country. This new organization will begin at once a campaign for better agriculture.

As the president of the league points out, the government has spent to date some $150,000,000 to learn certain fundamental facts. The knowledge so expensively procured is now to be realized on by giving it as wide a currency through the rural regions as is possible.

It is well known that the average yield from farms in Europe is two or three times that in America. The big farms of the far Northwest have been subjects of praise and wonder, but the league maintains that smaller farms, more carefully cultivated, must be the rule if better results are to be obtained. Population is growing faster than production and the surplus for export annually becomes smaller.

The league proposes to establish experimental tracts in various neighborhoods to ascertain the chemical composition of the soil—a necessary preliminary to the small farm handled intensively. The loose, "by and large" ways of an earlier, more careless, and less intelligent day must be left behind. The league realizes the difficulty of inducing "ten million farmers, scattered over a continental area, to adopt a new method of conduct and of business; but if farming is to be raised to an exact and profitable profession this endeavor must be made. —Chicago Record-Herald.

COUNTRY EDITOR'S MAIL LIST

"You might think," said a country editor, "that only the great city newspapers would have a mailing list covering a wide territory, but the fact is that every long-established country newspaper has a mailing list which, while it may not be as large as that of the city newspaper, may be as varied and as widespread.

"Sons of the old town go out into the world seeking fortune and they scatter the world over.

"Many of these men, wherever they may be, retain their interest in their old home. In the city to which they have gone all their substantial interests now lie; there they are absorbed in their work and there they may come to be prominent men. In and identified with the community. There is indeed now their home, and there their children are born. These, to be sure, to be interested in their home town, the city; but the man of the family, busy city man as he may now have come to be, still finds an interest in the old town whence he came, in what its people, the people he knew, are doing, in everything that is going on there; and so it may be that he will sit down after dinner, light a cigar, the like of which could not be bought in the old place, and tear the wrapper from the old familiar country weekly received in that day's mail.

"He will read not that stocks and bonds have done this or that, but that So-and-So has painted his barn or that the Presbyterian church has a new minister and that So-and-So has sold his lot on the west side of Main street, just south of the postoffice, or that someone else has bought a new reaper. He reads all this with real interest; it's about people and scenes he knows and that still appeal to him.

"And he is not the only busy man in the city who takes and continues to read the country paper. It might surprise you if you could know the number of country papers sent regularly to any great city, say, for instance, to New York. Country papers come into New York from all parts of the country, mailed regularly to subscribers who have gone out from the old town to settle in the big cities, but who still preserve their interest in their old homes.

"So it may be that the mail that goes weekly from the country newspaper office down the tree-arched village street to the postoffice in a country store may contain papers not for country subscribers alone, but as well papers going to the four quarters of the globe. The country editor's mailing list is perhaps not as big as that of the city daily, but it may be as far flung."—New York Sun.

SELECTING THE REPERTORY

At this stage of preliminary developments controversy over the repertory of the proposed New Theater can do little harm to Chicago's dramatic and artistic interests. The more ideas the better; the more discussion the greater the "advertising." But of course, controversy beyond a certain time would be detrimental if not fatal. Responsibility, like guilt, is "personal." The selection of plays, the forming of the repertory, must devolve on a man or group of men; a director, armed with full power, or a body of directors. Mass meetings, referendum votes, are out of the question.

Meantime, one proposition seems to us as impartial, but sympathetic observers, fundamental. Labels should be avoided. Fund and fast distinctions brushed aside. The experiment cannot succeed without considerable public support and patronage, and the condition of such support and of future growth and permanency is the production of vital, interesting, moving, truly dramatic plays. There are no ready and final tests for plays. There is no virtue in tags and terms. You may give a classic and play to empty houses. You may advertise "modernity," and fail to excite the slightest response.

Nothing should be excluded or included for reasons of an academic, abstract, scholastic nature. The questions to ask are these: Will this play, old or new, serious or light, realistic or fantastic, appeal to those for whose benefit the experiment is projected? Does it tell a good story in a dramatic manner? Can it be acted? Is it art and life? "Ought" has nothing to do with it. The drama is a popular art and must remain popular to do its work—educationally and otherwise.

The repertory should be catholic and cosmopolitan. It should "encourage" nothing save the genuine drama. The American drama will come into its own in a free field. Treat it as any other drama should be treated—on its merits. Attend to its individual plays, and the larger, higher result will take care of itself. The important thing, we repeat, is to find the right man or group of men and women, and put the responsibility on him or them. —Chicago Record-Herald.

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

One of the most notable weddings that have taken place in Oakland was solemnized this afternoon at 4 o'clock when Major John R. Mhoon and Miss Charlotte Kendall Miller were joined in the holy bonds of wedlock at the residence of the bride's parents, corner of Fourteenth and Poplar streets.

M. J. Monchamp, who has a blooded stock farm near Fruitvale, this morning reported to the police that two colts, worth $500 each, were stolen from his place over night.

John Henry Church was very much excited when he rushed into the Sheriff's office this afternoon. He declared that his house had been robbed at 11 o'clock this morning by a man whom he knows. The man walked into the house and deliberately took down the pictures on the wall in one room. The story appeared to be a fishy one, and Church was told to interview the District Attorney.

Timothy Hopkins returned yesterday from Japan. He intends to contest the will of Mrs. Hopkins-Searles, in which he, the adopted son of the testatrix, was disinherited.

O. R. Johnson, well known to many people in this vicinity, has suddenly come into a fortune of $127,000. The money will be paid on his claim against the United States government for losses to that amount sustained by Indian depredations several years ago. Mr. Johnson has just been advised that his claim has been allowed. In the early days Johnson ran a stage line in Idaho and Nevada in partnership with Irvin Ayers of this city. Land he owned there was taken for an Indian reservation.

Among the Oaklanders who are leaving the city this week are the following: M. J. Keller, L. Coleman, Miss Cora Maxwell, Charles Dixon, Henry Kahn, Miss Alice Higgins, Mrs. C. H. Hobart and children, Captain C. B. Wines, John C. Dunne, Mrs. J. D. Grey, W. A. Miller, Miss Anna Berger, Mr. and Mrs. S. Vincent of Alameda.

James Sutton, recorder of the University; James K. Moffitt and K. C. Easton have returned from a three weeks' trip to the Hetch Hetchy valley and Lake Eleanor.

Colonel John P. Irish has received an invitation from Governor Campbell of Ohio to stump the Buckeye State this fall for the Democratic ticket. He will probably make a few speeches in his old State of Iowa also.

GOSSIP FROM SAN FRANCISCO WEEKLIES

William Keith's Estate

The appraisement of William Keith's estate at $255,000 is regarded as rather low. He left a couple of hundred pictures that should be sold at good prices unless they are forced on the market and sacrificed. Nearly all these pictures were painted since the great fire of 1906 which destroyed several thousand of Keith's finished pictures and sketches. The great Californian was a tireless worker. He was happiest before his easel, brush in hand and he turned out canvases as if his daily bread depended on his ceaseless diligence. He could have eased up years ago and produced fewer works and taken more recreation in the forests and mountains he loved and knew so well, but no amount of persuasion could diminish his passion for work. He could paint a good picture while the average artist would be pondering how to begin. Few modern artists have had such command of color; and it all came from tireless work and unceasing study. Keith began painting as a wood engraver. His earlier works were crude and hard for he copied other men's styles. He quickly adopted a true and splendid method of his own and developed it to a high degree. He died a great and great master of the landscape art and it may be many years till America can produce a fit successor. At present there is no landscape painter in America as good as William Keith at his best. Keith was never the fool of Bohemia. The fact that he had over $100,000 in bank when he died explains of itself why the true Bohemians disliked his Scotch pertinacity and thrift.—The Wasp.

Some of the Debutantes

The debutantes of the coming winter will be mostly girls who are still in their teens, sweet and pretty youngsters who are far from being as sophisticated as some of the debutantes of recent seasons. Not that they are unfortunates who have lacked advantages, but simply because they are quite young and have not yet emancipated themselves from the elaborate control of their mothers. Most of them have been abroad, rejoice in a good deal of cultivation and possess a generous amount of good looks. The list is not yet complete, but some of them may be mentioned. Miss Isabel Beaver is considered quite a beauty. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beaver and a niece of Mr. Frank Madison. Her family have many friends in San Rafael society and it is certain that a great deal of entertaining in her honor will follow her formal bow. Miss Mabel McMahon, the daughter of Mrs. Eugene Bressie, is another girl of considerable charm. Miss Marion Crocker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Crocker and it is safe to say that the family's many connections will do a great deal to make her first season memorable. Miss Louise Kellogg is the daughter of Mrs. Marmaduke B. Kellogg. Miss Ruth Winslow is the daughter of that popular matron who was one of the Stetson girls. Then there are the two Cunningham girls, Evelyn and Genevieve; they are unusually attractive. Finally I may mention Miss Marian Mathieu, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mathieu. Here is a baby of buds indeed and we may confidently look forward to their blossoming into beautiful ornaments of our social life.—Town Talk.

The Disappearing Poppies

I saw John Gamble, the artist, at one of the clubs the other day. He was on his way from Santa Barbara where he has his studio nowadays, to the links at Bohemian Grove. Seeing him reminded me of a curious fact. The poppies are slowly disappearing from California. Of course there is no cause for alarm, as it will be years before the eschscholtzia becomes a rarity in our meadows and on their hillsides. But just the same there are not nearly as many poppies in California as there used to be. The increase in population and the bringing of more and more acres under cultivation are responsible. Just consider the case of San Francisco. The hills which used to be covered with poppies are now half-covered with homes. Some day the Californian who wants to see the glory of a poppy field may have to study it in one of John Gamble's beautiful pictures! Which reminds me that there is an Englishman in town who says Gamble could win great wealth if he would indulge in a little business enterprise. This Englishman is named Watson and he is out here consuming some big oil deals with Wendell P. Hammond. Watson is a connoisseur of art, and is always on the lookout for good things to add to his collection. He saw a Gamble canvas a few days ago and was mightily struck with it. He found that he could buy it for what he considered a very low price. "If Mr. Gamble would take some of his pictures abroad," said Watson to a friend, "he could sell them for thousands where he now gets hundreds."—Town Talk.

Where the Poppy Got Its Name

Speaking of the poppy, I wonder how many people know where it got its name? Not its beautiful Spanish name of copa d'oro which explains itself but the outlandish name which flowers so many youngsters in the spelling matches—or used to, for I believe spelling-matches are out of date. The name of eschscholtzia was given to the poppy in honor of a German surgeon named Johann Frederick Eschscholtz. In 1815 Eschscholtz sailed as a voyage of discovery and exploration with Otto von Kotzebue, Louis de Chamisso and other scientists. The voyage, which was under the patronage of a Russian count, lasted three years and the scientists spent some time in this State. The naturalist of the expedition was de Chamisso, who in 1820 published the results of his three years' work. He gave drawings and a description of the poppy which he named in honor of his friend and associate "Eschscholtzia Californica." Most flowers are known by their scientific names to botanists alone, but this has not been the case with the eschscholtzia. Perhaps on account of the very difficulty of the word, it has come into pretty general use.—Town Talk.

The Astor Affair

This time it's an Astor that causes Newport to sit up and take notice. A little while ago it was one of the Goulds, and before that a Vanderbilt. There's always something doing in one of the trio of first families of Manhattan. When it isn't a divorce it's a marriage that takes the plutocracy and the aristocracy by surprise. Colonel Jack Astor, great-grandson of the first John Jacob Astor, supplied the gossip with material for little-tattle just two years ago when he waded from his own fireside intent on the exultations of the passionate life. Promptly his wife sued him for a divorce and obtained a decree. The decree was made final in March, 1910. It forbade Colonel Astor to marry again within his wife's lifetime, but divorce decrees in this country are effective only in the States in which they are recorded. Colonel Astor took the decree as a joke. He celebrated his divorce on the evening of the signing of the decree at dinner and dance in his home in England. Colonel Astor remained in New York where rumor began to couple his name with that of Madeleine Force. The young woman with her mother was frequently seen in the Metropolitan Opera House, and they have been frequently mentioned among the guests at the parties on Colonel Astor's yacht. Never before did Miss Force figure in the front rank of society. She is in her twentieth year. She graduated but a year ago from a seminary in New York City. The curious thing about the engagement is that it was made by the girl's father after he had had a talk over the phone wire with Colonel Astor. Mrs. Force apparently was very well satisfied with the conquest of his daughter. According to one New York paper, "The joy of mama is abysmal, cataclysmic, Cyclopean, cosmic." Of mama it is said, "No reigning queen of ancient times, gazing upon the prisoners chained to her chariot-wheels ever felt one-half the beatitude and holy sense of power and triumph which will gleam from the eyes of Force Majoreur when the Colonel leads Madeleine to the altar."—Town Talk.

Garden Fete Like the Kirmess

Now that the Santa Barbara kirmess, with its thrills and interesting sights, has passed into history, local society is turning its attention to the garden fete which is to be given at "Uplands," the Crocker mansion, on September 16. Maids and matrons are planning for novelties that will make this affair more talked of than the recent kirmess, and I fear that there will be a number of stunts of an even more startling nature than Mrs. Sawyer's appearance dressed in tight-much to the delight of the masculine contingent of the audience. Willard Barton is supervising the production of his sketch, "Shopping," which contains many novel features. Behaviors for this merrily edicta are already under way, and the affair promises to be a great success. Possibly no feature of the fete will attract more attention or create more fun than the "Beauty Show," which will be in charge of Mrs. Willard Martin. These "beauties" will be well known society men, who will pose and be auctioned off to the highest bidder. I learn that several of the match-making matrons have decided to use this "beauty show" as a means of bringing loving hearts together. Miss Jennie Crocker, who will have returned from Europe by the time the garden fete is given, will take a prominent part in the affair, and she will likewise appear in a unique sketch which is now being prepared.—The Wasp.

Texas Tommy Once More

There is no doubt that the Texas Tommy, one of the dances that sprang into popularity in the halls where polished diction does not glide with polished floors, is going to move this winter in the same set as Doucet gowns. Ned Greenway, has already announced that with a little veneer as a proper stage dance for the smart set, and therein the czar is wise, for Texas Tommy would have come willingly if the czar had not opened the door to say "come in!" As a matter of fact, society is already dancing the Texas Tommy, and has become very proficient in it. As edited by the smart set it is not in the least objectionable, but has a certain abandon which the barn dance furnished for several seasons. The Texas Tommy will be to the waltz and the two-step, what the barn dance has been. It may be that when the Texas gets into vulgar surroundings the common streak shows, but in polite society Tommy behaves just as faultlessly as a great many people who, from vulgar surroundings, have climbed into good society, acquiring a polish en route that cannot be brushed off with a feather duster. At all the fashionable country clubs and resorts the Texas Tommy has been tried out and has caught popular favor without offending fastidious taste, so that means that in spite of the kickers who are always buzzing with little discontents, the dance will be formally received this winter at the Greenways. If Mrs. Alexander manages a series of dances, Tommy may not be ostracized either, for Mrs. Alexander is a sort of official chaperon for a lot of young people who have already taken to the Texas as gleefully as they went into the barn dance.—News Letter.

The Charming Harrimans

A few of our local lights of society who had the privilege of meeting Miss Carol Harriman at Del Monte were impressed with that young lady's quiet simplicity of manner. There are no affectations about this American girl who has inherited her father's practical common sense along with the prospects of many millions. She is not a beauty in the strict sense of the term, but has a face abounding with humor and intelligence, regard for others and a clear complexion that comes of an outdoor life. Like her mother Miss Harriman is greatly attached to Arden, the estate planned and built by the late railroad king who ended his days there. She is one of the most daring horsewomen in the country. Her sister, Mrs. Charles Rumsey, who as Mary Harriman accompanied the family to California on a previous trip some years ago, once led a New York coaching parade, driving her four with the skill of a professional. Mrs. Harriman did not make friends as readily as her daughters, but for those she great success had a manner of simple cordiality. The least entertaining for the Harrimans was limited as they were mourning. Mrs. Harriman in her widow's weeds looked greatly in need of the rest she sought in California. The Schwertluncheon was the largest function in their honor and it was informal, a few of the neighbors being bidden to greet the visitors who spent the day at Burlingame.—Town Talk.

How Time Does Fly!

It makes one feel odd to read in the society columns that Mrs. Sarah Stetson Winslow will introduce her daughter, Miss Ruth, to society at an elaborate tea to be given at Mrs. Winslow's home in November. It seems not so many years since the Stetson sisters were belles of society, and the gossips were busy making imaginary matches for them. A new generation has arisen which knows little about the society of the day when Mrs. Sarah Stetson Winslow's father, J. B. Stetson, was one of the most prominent business men of San Francisco. He was a representative of the merchants of our city, and was spoken of as a fit candidate for the office of Mayor at a time when the position of chief magistrate of San Francisco had not been degraded. It was a place of honor, and prominent citizens felt pride in filling it. Stetson was a member of the principal hardware firm of Holbrook, Merrill & Stetson. When he left that firm he became the head of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company. Though a very hard-headed business man, he committed the indiscretion, in his advanced years, of marrying for the second time. His second wife was the rich widow, Mrs. Doe, mother of Miss Margaret Doe, who has been so prominent in society in Santa Barbara this summer. The marriage proved as infelicitous as society expected, and Mr. Stetson's wife, who divorced her rich and aged husband, by his first wife Mr. Stetson had two sons and two daughters, both of whom married and divorced their husbands. Mrs. Sarah Stetson married Chauncey Winslow, who had previously been married and divorced from the popular actress, Sophie Eyre. Mr. Winslow was a clever man, but his habits did not please his wife, and she got rid of him. He went north, and is now dead. The other sister, Miss Nellie Stetson married Ricardo Pinto, a handsome young Spaniard, who was very popular in his day. The marriage was not a happy one, and after divorcing her rather gay young husband Mrs. Pinto married Robert Oxnard, who was a brother of Henry Oxnard, the sugar magnate.—The Wasp.

Mrs. Barron's Jewels Stolen

All the women in society sympathize with Mrs. Ward Barron for the loss of her fine jewelry taken by a porch climber while the Barrons were entertaining at dinner at their Burlingame home. The chief ransacked the rooms on the upper floor and carried off a bar pin, emerald set between two diamonds; bar pin, topaz between two diamonds; bar pin, topaz between two diamonds; lady's gold watch, initialed "E. F. B."; man's gold watch, initialed "E. F. B."; gold chain and match safe attached; rare coins valued at $170; whip-pin of diamonds; golf-stick-shaped pin, gold and diamonds; gold cuff buttons, initialed "E. F. B."—The Wasp.

A Deferred Romance

In Jewish society circles the one topic of conversation these summer days is the romance of a very prominent, wealthy woman and a distinguished physician. For quite a while now the devotion of the physician to this woman has excited the admiration of his many friends, and now that their romance is to be crowned by marriage, as all well regulated romances should be, there is quite a flutter among those with whom they are intimate. As is usual in such cases, gossip has ornamented their romance with a number of frills. It is being said, for instance, that the physician conquered the heart of his ladylove by means of hypnotism. But in reality this is nothing more than an oblique way of paying tribute to the strength of the sentiment which binds them together. That the romance had a most unusual beginning gossip also asserts and in the particular gossip seems to be right. The physician and the woman were first drawn to each other at the Chutes on the occasion of an unconventional marriage ceremony which took place there. The date for the wedding has not yet been fixed. In fact it cannot be fixed just yet, but there is no doubt that it will follow speedily when certain domestic complications have been disentangled. For one of the parties is married.—Town Talk.

Garnett's Play for Bohemians

There is a great flutter of curiosity in local art and literary circles regarding the Bohemian Club's grove play of the season, the reason being that the author is distinctly a critic. More than that, he's an all-round critic. Is Mr. Porter Garnett a man honest enough with a knowledge of all the arts and the courage to episcopate about any of them to an audience of specialists. So the men that have done things in the arts have gone up to the Bohemian Grove to defy Mr. Garnett to make good. If the play has flaws, in it the avvil chorus will be heard as far away as Carmel, nay, even to the outskirts of literature. As a matter of fact Mr. Garnett is something more than an academic person versed in the best traditions of all the arts. A connoisseur as well as a dilettante, he has not always confined himself to the discussion of what's what and who's who in literature, painting and music. But the grove play, which is to be presented this Saturday night, is the most ambitious effort of his life. What it is about nobody knows, says the author and the actors. Even the title of it has been kept under a lid. Dick Hotelling says the play is called "A Green Night, or the Knight's First Experience," but I'm told that there's a joke concealed in this title and that it's Hotelling's invention. The fact is Garnett has enveloped the child of his genius in an impenetrable mantle of mystery which is not to be taken off till the gong sounds. That the play is something very artistic is suspected by many because the playwright has caused the low links to be cut out so that the spell to be woven shall endure through the night.—Town Talk.

Credit Where Credit Was Due

Some time ago a well known matron of this city who was not too burdened with adipose but nevertheless shared the general craze for extreme attenuation, placed herself under the care of a prominent Jewish physician. As the result of his treatment she was able to get rid of considerable flesh and to excite the envy of her more robust friends by her fashionable slenderness of her figure. Unknown to the doctor she combined his treatment with Christian Science and when she had banded to her heart's content, she rather ungratefully gave the credit to the mental exercises. She met the physician the other day and with pardonable pride he complimented her on her willowy appearance. "Yes, doctor," she replied, "it's due to Christian Science." "And to Jewish science, too, if I mistake not," retorted the medico.—Town Talk.

The Waiter Was Mad

Never think that a waiter has not a temper. He may go along for a month, for a year, for a dozen years, without showing it, but some little happenings, accident or otherwise, will at length bring it out, and then beware, Algren. For that same waiter has seen a lot of human nature, and at heart is a great cynic. And he usually has a tongue that, in spite of his customary Sphinx-like attitude, he has practiced faithfully on his wife. You find his kind in the more pretentious cafes particularly, and one of his gentlemen with a red nose (we would prefer to say mild pink) who set him off. The gentleman is so well known and does the cafes so habitually that, having thus described him, no name is required. Suffice it to add that he once thought he could write, then gave it up for business, and gave that up for an inheritance, which enables him to make a constant selection for the new hats. He is unmarried. And if his nose has taken on a tinge or two in the process, he is none the less charming. It lends color to his character, perhaps, and most women have heard Cyrano de Bergerac. Well, the gentleman, having a lady dining with him in a place on Powell street, opened a bottle of wine. That is, the waiter attempted to open it. He tried the previous night, something else, must have been on his mind. For suddenly the wine splashed in his face, the bottle went on the floor, breaking into a hundred pieces, and in his excitement a metal instrument he held in his hand bruised his left and handsome cheek bone. The gentleman dining with the lady was not slow in calling him a broncho and other species of horse. At the moment, however, it was an ill-judged thing to do. The waiter was really mad—no other word would do. His sarcasm riding at tilt cared for nothing. He would have without compunction murdered the sweetest peevish dog.

"What difference does it make to you?" he asked. "You don't have to pay for it. I'll sell a bottle of wine over myself and hurt my face, it's my business." "Well, at any rate, I am glad it has left a mark," replied the other, referring to the bruise on the waiter's cheek. "And so am I," retorted the waiter, gazing straight at the gentleman's nose.—News Letter.

Mrs. Barron's Jewels Stolen

All the women in society sympathize with Mrs. Ward Barron for the loss of her fine jewelry taken by a porch climber while the Barrons were entertaining at dinner at their Burlingame home. The chief ransacked the rooms on the upper floor and carried off a bar pin, emerald set between two diamonds; bar pin, topaz between two diamonds; bar pin, topaz between two diamonds; lady's gold watch, initialed "E. F. B."; man's gold watch, initialed "E. F. B."; gold chain and match safe attached; rare coins valued at $170; whip-pin of diamonds; golf-stick-shaped pin, gold and diamonds; gold cuff buttons, initialed "E. F. B."—The Wasp.

A Deferred Romance

In Jewish society circles the one topic of conversation these summer days is the romance of a very prominent, wealthy woman and a distinguished physician. For quite a while now the devotion of the physician to this woman has excited the admiration of his many friends, and now that their romance is to be crowned by marriage, as all well regulated romances should be, there is quite a flutter among those with whom they are intimate. The Reids Shock Waldorf Astor

San Francisco and peninsula society will be enlivened in the fall by the presence of Ambassador and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid. They are coming here for the wedding of Miss Ruth Mills and Paul Fisk Yungling. Miss Mills is the daughter of Eastern Mills and therefore a niece of the late D. O. Mills and a cousin of Mrs. Reid. Mention of the Reids reminds me that they recently administered a severe shock to the sensibilities of William Waldorf Astor. They actually invaded the grounds of Hever Castle, "Willy Wally's" country seat, in an automobile. Waldorf Astor has strong opinions on the subject of autos. He is quoted as saying that he would not own one himself in any circumstances and he could not see why any one else should. So visitors to Hever Castle leave their autos behind, journey by train and are met at the station by fine old fashioned landaus sent by their host. Country neighbors who have tried to call at Hever in their motor cars have been stopped at the lodge gates and informed of Mr. Astor's rule, and in all England the Hever Castle estate stood out as the one place where the horn of the motor was not heard. At Mr. Astor's last week-end party, though, the record was broken. Mr. and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid were guests, and Mrs. Reid did not like the idea of journeying down to the country by train, so at the last moment she ordered her car and telegraphed Mr. Astor that she and Mr. Reid would arrive by motor at 6:30 o'clock. History does not record what Mrs. Astor said when he received the message, but by the time his guests arrived he was at the door to meet them, calm as though automobiles were his delight.—Town Talk.

Bohemia Mourns For Marty's Locks

With tears streaming down our journalistic cheeks we confirm the report. Giuseppe Martinez, "Marty," whose locks were one of the chief decorations of Bohemia, has had them shorn off. Bohemia is wild about it. Marty simply smiles and smokes comfortably in his new appearance of emmet and snick prosperity. He could pass for an ordinary tomato-tin trust head anywhere. Whether or not it was a love affair sent him to slaughter, he refuses to state. But it must have been something terrible when he can now be so satisfied with himself. Meanwhile Bohemia is looking for another with locks as lovely to adorn the plantation. Cadenasso's are iron-gray, and rather too venerable to indicate the right smack of poetry and emotional devilishness, which is not saying, however, that Caddy has not some hair. But to duplicate Marty will be difficult, indeed. Several young ladies have gone into mourning over the matter, and there is no doubt that numerous others will follow. Marty, it seems, did not keep a lock of hair for any of them. And it is told with awe in Bohemia that the barber who did the deed swept it off the floor on a common dustpan just the same as he would that of any other. The minions are becoming too disrespectful altogether. The only word that could be got out of Marty on the sacrifice was as follows. The secretary of the club, who cannot very well afford to let such things happen, was upbraiding him.

"Was it because you thought long hair was no longer respectable?" he asked. "Marty sighed. 'I did think I was beginning to look a little too much like Cadenasso,'" he admitted.—News Letter.

The Kohls Have Recovered

Miss Harriett Alexander, the young daughter of the energetic and resourceful Mrs. Alexander, is studying music very seriously these days. While she was abroad it was discovered that she had a charming voice, and since her return she has devoted most of her time to study. It is not a grand-opera possibility. Fred Kohl still has the exclusive option on the only grand opera voice in society. There is no doubt that Mrs. Kohl could be developed into a grand opera star, and Mr. Kohl's favorite joke is, "I married Bessie to save the public from her!" Both Mr. and Mrs. Kohl have now recovered, and are in their own home after a long siege in the sanatoriums here. Mrs. Kohl is planning to go to New York again this winter to do some tone work.—News Letter.

Interesting Engagement

Miss Alice Grace McDonald, whose engagement to Charles J. Cox Jr., has been announced, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. McDonald, who reside in a handsome residence on Ashbury street. It was there that the engagement was announced at a luncheon Tuesday afternoon. The guests were given an intimation of the announcement which was forthcoming by finding on their champagne glasses pretty little figures of Cupid. A. P. McDonald, the father of the bride-to-be, is a pioneer resident of this city, and a capitalist who has been engaged in the important enterprises. He has been contemplating a trip to Europe, but it will probably be postponed until after the wedding of Miss Alice, who is both highly accomplished and pretty. She is a graduate of the Sacred Heart Academy of Menlo Park, and is very popular in the younger set. Mr. Cox is a University of California man and a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity. He has been engaged in the real estate business for some time. The wedding will probably be an autumn event. Mr. Cox and Miss McDonald met for the first time at the wedding of Miss Mollie Merle and William Regan, which took place on June 27. Miss McDonald was one of the bridesmaids on that happy occasion.—The Wasp.

Troubles of the Aristocracy

The capitalistic residents of the suburbs have had a run of hard luck lately. On Saturday Mrs. Gus Taylor's automobile ran down a laborer employed on the Fred Sharon estate. Capitalists get the shivers these days when they hit any of the "common people" with their motor cars. Their possible responsibilities remind them of De Maupassant's story of the French count who lived on a government clerkship and ran down an old charwoman when riding home through Paris with his family from a picnic. She never recovered. The poor count put her in a hospital, but finding that too heavy a strain on his slender salary, took her into his own house and gave her bed and board. She never got out of bed, but ate three meals a day with great relish. She told the doctors she was unable to move, but they could find no evidence of any fractures or other cause of paralysis. The wretched count was torn between fears of the patient's tireless appetite and dread of a lawsuit for damages if he bundled her out of his modest lodgings.—The Wasp.

Miss Bryan a Bride

At the marriage of Miss Dorothy Bryan and John Griffith Roberts celebrated at the Palace on Wednesday the decorations were particularly elaborate. The ceremony took place at high noon in a private suite in the hotel which had been transformed into a beautiful white and gold bower. Gilt baskets filled with white blossoms set on gilt pedestals or hung from the chandeliers made an effective setting for the bridal party. The bride's costume had a novel effect of flower garlands that became her slender form. She is not yet 18 years old and was a picture of girlish beauty with her youthful bridesmaids who were all in gold. Their costumes were made of gold chiffon over yellow satin. They carried their hats filled with white and yellow daisies. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Laughlin of Fresno where they are prominent socially and financially and the groom is a well known young banker of the San Joaquin Valley.—Town Talk.

Set Burlingame to Wild Gossip

The Burlingame scandal of last week can now be heard above a whisper. In fact, every one is talking out loud about it—that is, every one who uses the Burlingame scenery for a background. It is very pleasant to think that so far the inventive mind has not concerned itself with a guaranteed lid that can be screwed down so tight on a scandal that the public will not be able to flirt with it.

In this particular case it would be more correct to speak of the affair as approximately scandalous. For the fastidious, one would have to call it a joke, and of course it originated in the imagination of a certain blonde and plump polo player who keeps his mind so well ventilated that all sorts of unconventional ideas are apt to blow in.

Several times last week a dashing young man whose wife is not in this part of the world was seen in company with a blonde woman who looked—well, who looked rather second-rate. Her clothes erred on the side of the startling, and her gold ear hair was too determined a hue even in the dim twilight when she was seen walking hand in hand over the hills with her escort; her laughter was too loud and her manner too bold, as she eyed the people in the autos that chugged by the one in which the gay blonde of a husband contentedly exploited her. After she had been seen in every variety that conforms to coquetry, indignation was at a high pitch, and toppled over when the chap had effrontery enough to bring her to the Menlo Park clubhouse for tea, one chilly afternoon; that chill became frigid after her entrance, and then swung into the torrid zone of laughter when it was discovered that the blonde, who was too curvilinear and too golden for reputable looks, was none other than the effervescent clubman and polo player who is apparently permanently detached from his wife, and with his friend, who is just temporarily separated from his wife, they descend to rouse the shy musings of the countryside into a storm of protest. They succeeded beyond their hopes, which promises well for the Beauty Show, when the men are to be raffled off as famous beauties for the sake of exacting charity.

Jurists in the Tenderloin

Judge J. E. F. came to town to pay a visit. (The circumstances do not permit us to give the full name nor where he came from.) At any rate, he is the friend of a certain San Francisco judge who is very well known, and even whose initials it would not be fair to print. For the visiting judge wanted to see the famous San Francisco judge, and you understand, and the other judge consented to lead him to it. It is always well, my dear children, for a judge to see with his own eyes. So, discarding their official robes and dropping their dignity to the undetectable plebeian, they went, saw and were conquered; that is, confused. The Barbary Coast was certainly a hummer. The San Francisco judge, who had not been down there for a couple of years, and the other who had never wandered that way before, decide when on McCarrthyism. It was a revelation—and in more ways than one. The costumes worn in as bad as the dances, and the dances as bad as the costumes. However, even then they say it is all in a lifetime—referring to the money, probably. Two blocks in the car up Kearny street, Judge J. E. F., having recovered his breath, turned to his companion, sitting pondering beside him.

"So that is your Redlight district!" he remarked, his tone denoting several exclamation marks.

The Week's Most Important Wedding

Three weddings occupied society this week, first in importance being the one that united Miss Natalie Hunt and Herbert Baker at St. Luke's church Wednesday evening. The edifice was filled with a fashionable throng as both families are socially prominent. The bride, a daughter of Mrs. Randall Hunt of Pacific avenue, had her debut the same year that the Newhall girls were buds and has attended the Greenway balls and all the important entertainments of the smart set. She was a close friend of the groom's sister, Miss Helen Baker, before her marriage to Drummond McGavin. Herbert Baker belongs to a prominent family of wealth and position. His father, the late L. L. Baker, was a millionaire merchant and built the palatial residence on the corner of Washington and Franklin streets that for two years was the home of the Pacific Union Club. Wakefield Baker is a half-brother and Miss Dorothy Baker, who was a bridesmaid, is a sister to the groom. His mother, whose death occurred at the Fairmont last winter, was the daughter of the Reverend C. B. Stone, a clergyman who was identified with the early church and social life of the city. Leavitt Baker and his bride, who was Miss Danner of Seattle, came from their ranch in Northern California for the nuptials. Mrs. Baker wore her wedding gown and was warmly greeted at the reception after the ceremony, it being her recent appearance in pink satin and chiffon embroidered in silver and had short trains that the girls managed gracefully. The bridal robe had a long court train and was embellished with old lace, some of which had belonged to the groom's mother.—Town Talk.

The Johnson Will Contest

San Rafael society is keenly interested in the outcome over the will of the late Frank Johnson, the prominent merchant who met an untimely death by falling under the wheels of the train at Ross. His son, Colonel Frank Johnson, who married Cathleen Selby, and has distinguished himself in aviation feats, is said to be entirely dissatisfied with the bequest to him. His mother was Miss Mamie Williams, sister of Thomas H. Williams, the famous turfman, and only daughter of General Thomas H. Williams, who left an immense estate. Mrs. Johnson (nee Williams) divorced Mr. Johnson when her boy was a baby, and was awarded the custody of her boy. She married again, and died several years afterward. The boy then returned to the care of his father, who in the meantime had married the widow of Charles Dore, son of Maurice Dore, a rich real estate man. Mr. Johnson's oldest son now claims that it was with his money, inherited from his wealthy mother, that his father bought the Johnson-Locke Mercantile firm and became a merchant prince. He is particularly aggrieved because his father left so much to his nephew Frank Glass, son of his sister, and the late Admiral Glass. Mr. and Mrs. Glass were on the eve of leaving for Europe to purchase furniture for their new house when the unpleasant prospect of a bitter will contest changed all their plans.—The Wasp.

A Prince's Schemes

As Prince Andre Poniatowski married Miss Elizabeth Sperry of Stockton, sister of Mrs. William H. Crocker, wife of the noted San Francisco banker, and lived for many years in San Mateo county, local society still regards him as part of it. The Poniatowskis have lived in Paris since the Prince's financial enterprises in this State failed to float as buoyantly as some of them deserved. One of his projects was the establishment of a union railroad depot on upper Market street which could be reached by overland trains crossing the bay at Dumbarton and coming in through the Mission. Prince Poniatowski was one of the prominent men who made horse-racing a leading amusement for San Francisco. In some of his railroads and other enterprises the Prince was reliant on the very long purse of his brother-in-law, Henry H. Hays, the factious remark of Jack Cassery of San Mateo at a festive gathering when rising to propose an appropriate toast, "Here is to the prince of bankers and the banker of princes!" The clever witticism created much hilarity among the assembled guests.—The Wasp.

Not a Royal Prince

Often when Prince Poniatowski is referred to in California it is remarked that he is "a descendant of the last king of Poland." History records no descendants of the last, and perhaps the worst, king of Poland, Stanislaus Augustus Poniatowski. He was accredited with being the lover of the Grand Duchess Catherine of Russia, and when she succeeded to the throne by the assassination of her husband, she made her handsome Polish favorite King of Poland. He was a man of fine literary talent and splendid manners, but he did nothing for Poland, and finally sequestered in the division of the nation between Russia, Austria and Germany. He relinquished his crown and was given a pension of 200,000 roubles, paid jointly by the three powers that had appropriated his country. He died, unmarried, in 1798, at St. Petersburg, three years after resigning as King of Poland. The Emperor Paul, who was then the ruling despot of Russia, treated the ex-king with such scant courtesy that he never allowed him to be seated in his presence. Other members of the illustrious Poniatowski left better records.—The Wasp.

A Prince in California

The Prince Poniatowski whom we know so well in California and who made himself quite popular in our democratic community, first came under the notice of Californians as the prospective husband of Miss Maude Burke, niece and reputed heiress of Horace Carpenter, an Oakland capitalist who had acquired a large slice of the Oakland water front. The engagement was broken off, and local society was somewhat sympathetic toward the fiancée; but she made another brilliant match and married Sir Bache Curran, and became a noted leader in Anglo-American society. Her dress and smart affairs made her one of the most noted hostesses in London's smart set. Prince Poniatowski married Miss Sperry not long after his engagement with Miss Burke was broken.—The Wasp.

Here Come the Alexanders

That we are to have Mrs. Hattie Crocker Alexander and her daughters in our midst for the Fall social season is an announcement of more than passing interest. Mrs. Alexander moves in the most exclusive circles of New York and London society and her visits to her old home in the past few years have been rare. Her daughters have not been in California since their nursery days. Miss Harriet Alexander who was presented at court in London this year is a belle of New York's 400 but her younger sister Janetia who was also presented at the second drawing room of the season has yet to make her formal debut at home. The older girl is said to resemble her mother, for whom she is named and has the Titian hair that is one of Mrs. Alexander's attractions. Mrs. Alexander is the aunt by marriage of Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt Jr. who was Eleanor Alexander of New York and it was at the former Hattie Crocker's house which Edjonia and smart Vanderbilt mansion that the young Roosevelts held their wedding reception. She will probably visit at the Roosevelt cottage in Pacific avenue though much of her stay will be passed with her niece, Miss Jennie Crocker with whom she will journey to San Francisco, and with the William Crockers at Burlingame. The advent of the Alexanders will be the social sensation par excellence of the season.—Town Talk.

THE MEDDLER

THE social season in Oakland is to open in September in a great blaze of glory with the big suffrage festival. It is to be a festival along wonderful lines, the most original and important, perhaps, that Oakland has ever known. "Everybody" bids fair to be in it in some way and the festival is already assuming an affair of much magnitude. It is only in line with the many pageants all over the world, but especially in London and in New York. In the latter city the great procession of thousands upon thousands of women made a spectacle never equaled in that city. The men marched also, and the most beautiful women in New York typified woman's progress through the ages.

Something like that may be developed at the coming festival in September.

It is to be held at Piedmont Park, the park for the day being the gift to the cause of Mrs. Frank C. Havens, who has been to California in the suffrage line what Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont and Mrs. Clarence Mackay have been to New York. It must be remembered that the success today of the suffrage cause is due to the efforts years ago of the few who stood to their guns when suffrage was not so popular. It is the great movement of the age now—it is the popular movement—and it is the one beloved by the socially elect. Mrs. Clarence Mackay, Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Miss Anne Morgan lead the forces in New York City, and they join hands with the women workers of that city in a sisterly helpfulness that is beautiful to behold.

It is some years ago now since Susan Anthony, Ida Husted Harper, Mary Hay and Rev. Anna Shaw came to California—a State which was just beginning to wake up to the suffrage sentiment. Mrs. Ida Harper is giving lectures in the many exclusive homes of New York and in the summer homes on Long Island, and she has contributed valuable literature to the suffrage movement. When she was here some years ago she was Mrs. Frank C. Havens' guest at "Rosecrest," then the Havens' family home on Vernon heights.

Miss Anthony, Rev. Anna Shaw and Mrs. Harper were entertained in several of our leading homes, among their hostesses being Mrs. Frank C. Havens, Mrs. A. J. Moore, Mrs. Alice Stocker, Mrs. Archibald Borland, Mrs. John L. Howard, Mrs. Lloyd Baldwin. Among the early supporters of the cause were Mrs. Haight of Berkeley, Miss Mollie Connors, Mrs. J. N. Chapman of Alameda, Miss Mary Keene, Mrs. Frank Deering, Mrs. D. C. Borland—and one might go on with many more names. They have all lived to see their earlier efforts not wasted, for now the wave is so overwhelming that suffrage is the keynote of the hour for most women.

GOOD FEELING OF PERSISTENT CAMPAIGN.

Surely, there was never a campaign conducted along lines of such abounding good feeling. Nowhere are there antagonisms, nowhere does one find animosity. There may be differences of opinion, but they are not expressed in antagonistic fashion. Suffrage seems to have come to California on a wave of great good will. And that has always been characteristic of California, whose progress has been steadily down the paths of peace. The history of the New England states shows early chapters of great bloodshed, of frightful Indian massacres. As against that we have a record in our own state of the peaceful Spanish padres, who dwelt with the Indians in much affection, and who taught them how to till the soil, and the other arts of peace. And so it has been with the suffrage campaign.

It has been carried along on the brightest lines. There have been bridge parties for the cause. There have been amusing plays; people have given of their best literary talent, the lighter side of life playing about, and illuminating a problem of the deepest seriousness. Helpful hands from all over the nation have been extended to the California women. There is something pathetic in the day of self-denial planned by the New York women to aid their California sisters. They are not going to the theater, they will not wear new gloves, they will save car fare, that sisters in a far distant state may be helped. Whether suffrage wins or not, that feeling of universal sisterhood must be of immense value to a nation.

There has never been anything better than the dignity, the harmony with which California women are carrying on their campaign. And there is an intellectual force, joined to a sweet womanliness, that carries its own rare charm. So it is that the great September fete bids fair to usher in our social season in a blaze of glory. The San Francisco social contingent are coming over to help along the cause. There will be something wonderfully unique and picturesque to arouse one's interest. Beautiful Piedmont Park, the gift for the day of Mrs. Havens, will be crowded with our own people, and with visitors from across the bay and all over the state. Mrs. F. M. Smith will probably be home to take an interest in the fete.

It will have the social backing of the F. M. Smith contingent, of the Frank Havens circle, of the A. A. Moores, the Whitneys, and the strong support of the College Women's Equal Suffrage League, one of the strongest woman organizations on the coast. The actual date of the fete has not been determined, but preparations are going busily forward, and it will take place some time during the latter part of September.

NEW GOWNS ARE NEXT TO SUFFRAGE.

Next to suffrage these days, one's friends are interested in the new gowns of the hour, and in most homes sewing is still going on. Women are moving to and fro, making trips of all sorts, going away on vacations, visiting in the country, and for these there is a constant demand for a renewal of simple gowns or the necessity for a special frock.

A woman who knows writes of the styles to come:

"Rumor is rife these days. It is said that skirts are to be narrower than ever in the autumn; that all waists are to be excessively short; that divided skirts will be the rule, not really divided you know, but arranged to give that impression; that flounces are to be revived and that sashes of all sorts will be worn."

MRS. ALBERT SMITH'S LUNCHEON, SUCCESS.

One of the interesting luncheons of the week was given by Mrs. Albert Smith, who entertained in honor of Miss Julia Fraser, who has returned to Oakland for a visit, after an absence of some years. Miss Fraser's home is in New York, where she is well known for the helpfulness of her work. She belongs to some of the leading clubs there—notably the "California Club"—which so ably represents our state.

Besides the guest of honor, Miss Fraser, Mrs. Smith's guests included the Original Writers' Section of the Ebell Club, in which are included Mrs. Charles H. Rowe, Mrs. Joseph E. Baker, Mrs. F. H. Miller, Mrs. Wilkinson, Miss Newman, Mrs. Walter Manuel, Miss Smith.

Mrs. Albert Smith has written some very exquisite poems, and Mrs. Charles Rowe's short stories have called out many favorable criticisms. Mrs. Baker has done specially good work in journalism, and altogether the section is one of the most important in the Ebell Club.

Miss Fraser was also a guest of honor at a large tea, given by Miss Augusta Clow, who entertained also for her sister Mrs. Ferguson, who is visiting in California this summer.

GUEST OF KNOWLANDS IN WASHINGTON.

Mrs. John F. Connors is the guest of Congressman and Mrs. Joseph R. Knowland at Washington, D. C. She will remain several days at the capital. Saturday evening the Knowlands and Mrs. Connors were among the guests at the reception given at the White House by President Taft to Admiral Togo. After her visit in Washington Mrs. Connors will spend some time with her cousins, the Spurgeons, of New York. Colonel Spurgeon was at the head of the West Point United States Military academy for a number of years.

OAKLAND SOCIETY TO WELCOME CLIFTS.

All their many friends are very glad indeed that Mrs. William Clift and her daughter, Miss Jean Clift are coming home again, and one hopes that this time they will spend many months in California. They had intended to go to the north in Europe this summer, and to visit the far-famed land of the midnight sun. But Miss Clift's illness delayed them in Dresden and she has only recently recovered from an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. Clift and her daughter are returning by way of the Canadian Pacific and will spend some days at the famous English summer resort Banff. It is in the heart of the Canadian Rockies, and the scenery at Banff and at beautiful Lake Louise near it, is among the most superb on the continent. Mrs. Lee Cole Burnham has gone north to meet her mother and sister at Banff.

In the family reunion of the Clifts are always Mrs. Clift, Miss Jean Clift, Mailler Searies, the Irving Lundborgs, the Lee Cole Burnhams and the Frederick Clifts.

The Lundborgs are to welcome home from Europe Miss Florence Lundborg, who will be their guest in their summer home at Los Gatos. It is a good deal more than just a summer home, for Irving Lundborg is developing a regular ranch, and his success as a farmer of the genuine type is interesting his friends. During the coming winter, Miss Lundborg is planning to open a studio in San Francisco, and there will be an exhibition of the work she did in Europe—work that has been highly praised by the critics abroad.

ANOTHER BETROTHAL IS SOCIETY THEME.

The engagement of Lieutenant Shipp, U. S. A., and Miss Anna Weller recently announced, is a matter of much interest to many families on this side of the bay. Miss Weller is a cousin of Miss Eliza MacMullin and both of the young girls made their debut two seasons ago, under the chaperonage of their grandmother, Mrs. J. C. MacMullin.

The MacMullins represented one of the pioneer families of San Francisco and their home in California street was for many years the center of an abounding hospitality.

Mrs. MacMullin was from Kentucky, and she was a leader in the Southern set across the bay. Her daughters were often guests over here, and among the intimate friends of the family were the Sam Bell McKees, the C. C. Clays, the Prathers, the Walls and the Glascocks.

Mrs. Eleanor Martin entertained at a luncheon last week at the Burlingame Club in honor of Miss Weller. Among the guests at the luncheon were Miss Weller, Miss MacMullin, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Clement Tobin, Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin Wood, Miss Harriet Alexander.

Miss Weller has chosen her wedding attendants, and her maid of honor, is to be Miss Ila Sonntag. The bridesmaids will be Miss Katherine MacAdams and Eliza MacMullin.

MANY OF SOCIETY STILL AT TAHOE.

Tahoe is so very delightful in August that many prominent people delay their vacation outing till the very late summer. Edward Greenway is at Tahoe, and is delighting his friends by the wonderful trout he is sending from that mountain resort.

Mrs. William High and her son, Ralph High, are also at Tahoe. Ralph High, who is a member of the University Glee Club, did not accompany his companions abroad. He went with them as far as New York when business interests called him home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Van Sicken and Miss Dorothy Van Sicken have gone to Tahoe, where they will spend the month of August. The Van Sickens usually spend the greater part of the winter at the Fairmont in San Francisco.

One hears that the fine fishing at Tahoe has never been equaled. And it is said that the late melting of the snows this season, is responsible for the large number of mountain trout in the lake.

SMART SET BUSY WITH WINTER PLANS.

Already many well known people of the smart set are making plans for the coming winter.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. A. Miller are to close their home at Ross Valley and to spend the winter across the bay. They have taken apartments at the Hillcrest.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chanslor are also planning to spend the winter in San Francisco, and they will be at the Palace.

Mrs. Walter Hedges, who has been in Santa Barbara this summer, will spend the coming winter in Paris. Before her departure, she will visit her sister, Mrs. Breeden in Burlington.

MANY LEAVE TOWN FOR LATE SUMMER.

The late summer days are ideal for traveling, and it seems as if those who deferred their vacations had much the best of things in the way of a good weather scheme. Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Coogan are at Lake Tahoe, and there also are Mr. and Mrs. William Moller. The Mollers are very fond of motoring, and they an-joyed extended automobile trips during their recent stay in Europe.

Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Moffitt have opened their summer home on the shores of Tahoe, and among their guests this summer will be Mrs. Moffitt's sisters, the Misses Gertrude and Virginia Jolliffe.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walsh are among the travelers spending August days at Tahoe. They usually pass part of each summer in the Sierras, and for many seasons their children have spent vacation days at Applegate.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wadsworth, whose home is in Fresno, are coming to Oakland to spend some August days, as guests of Mrs. Wadsworth, and at the Fillmore home. Mrs. Philip Wadsworth was Miss Bessie Fillmore, and she has many friends among the younger Oakland matrons, who always make her visits here very happy events.

WHEELERS TRAVEL ON ENGLAND'S PATHS.

The Charles S. Wheelers are traveling leisurely through England, and they are being very extensively entertained by friends there. Charles Wheeler Jr. did not go abroad with his family, but went to the family home on the McCloud river, where he entertained some of his college chums this summer. They enjoyed the hunting and fishing on the McCloud and the free out-of-door life of the high Sierras.

The Charles Duttons have changed their minds about returning home, and they are among the prominent Americans who are summering in Switzerland. They will return to Berlin in the late autumn. Both Mr. and Mrs. Dutton are very musical, and both are exceedingly fine pianists, so that a winter in Berlin has much to offer them in the way of musical advantages.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Welch Jr. are now in Austria, and they will be abroad two months. They have closed both their home at Menlo and their home in San Francisco, and they are planning their months abroad for the education of their two children.

EXTEND THEIR STAY ACROSS THE OCEAN.

Others who are extending their stay abroad are Dr. Russ, his mother, Mrs. John Russ, and his aunt, Mrs. Charles D. Pierce. The engagement of Miss Mabel Andrews of San Jose, and Dr. Russ was one of the announcements of the summer, and their wedding was to have taken place on the return of Dr. Russ from abroad.

Miss Andrews is the daughter of a prominent banker in San Jose, and is a girl of much charm, and one who has many friends. Doctor Russ and Miss Andrews changed their plans for the wedding, in consequence of which the bride-elect recently left for the East and Europe. Doctor Russ and Miss Andrews will be married in Dresden and will spend an indefinite time abroad. At their wedding will be Mrs. John Russ and Mrs. Charles Pierce, and many Americans in Dresden will also be present. Among those at present making their home in Dresden are Mrs. William Clift and Miss Jean Clift.

Dr. Raymond Russ has had unusual advantages for study in his profession. After graduating from the University of California, he spent many months at the Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore, in post graduate work. He is planning to go on with his studies in surgery abroad, spending much time in the leading hospitals of Germany, France and Austria.

Dr. and Mrs. E. R. Sill and Dr. Kelley have been touring Europe, and they have traveled extensively this summer. Their last letters were from Belgium, and they are not planning to return to California for some time to come.

MRS. HIRAM HALL HOME FROM OUTING.

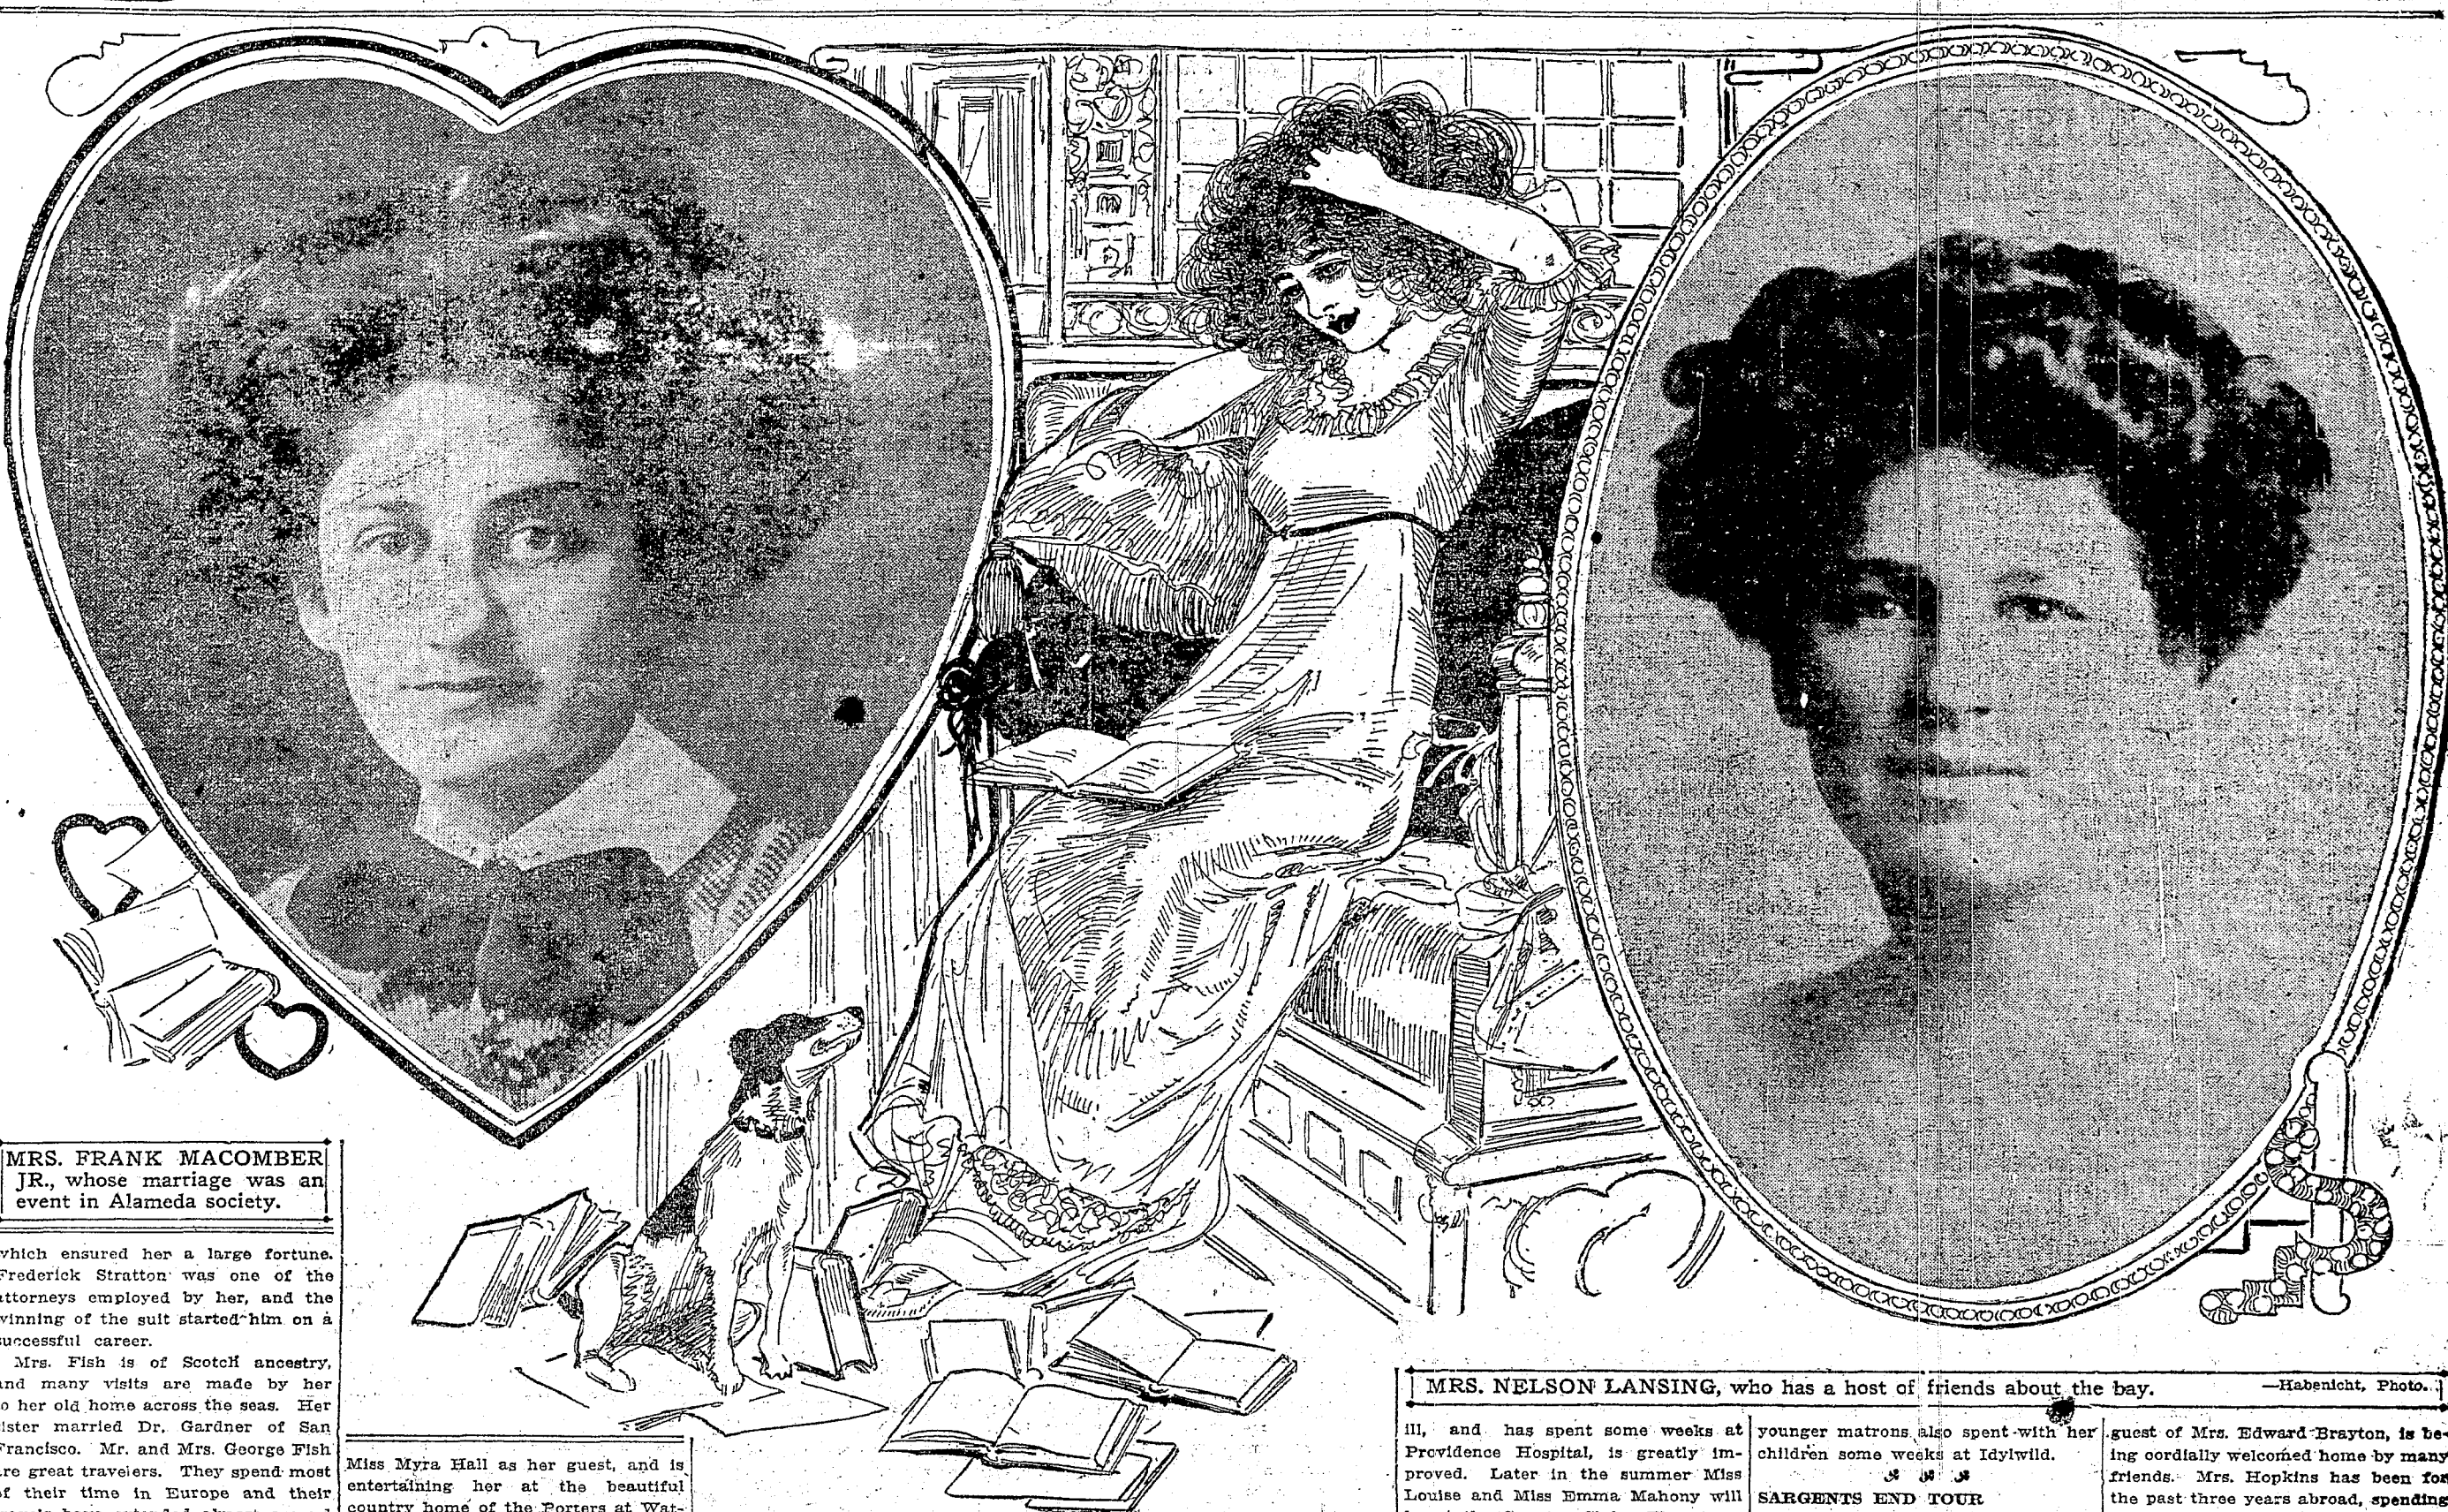

Mrs. Hiram Hall, and her little daughter, Elizabeth Ann Hall, have returned from a summer outing in Sonoma county. They were the guest of Mrs. Hall's brother, Sam Haven, who has a large ranch near Santa Rosa. Mrs. Sam Haven was formerly Maud Agler, and she entertains many guests in her home each summer.

Mrs. Hiram Hall is one of the popular and very attractive younger matrons on this side of the bay. Her home in East Oakland is most artistic, and both Mr. and Mrs. Hall take great pleasure in making their friends welcome in it.

MR. AND MRS. FISH HERE FOR VISIT.

Among the recent arrivals from the Orient are Mr. and Mrs. George L. Fish, who are established at the Fairmont, where they are to spend the coming season. The Fishes are well known on this side of the bay, where Mr. Fish was in business for many years. Mrs. Fish is a niece of the late Mrs. Hunter, who won a famous legal suit in San Francisco.

SOCIETY NEWS of the WEEK

MRS. FRANK MACOMBER JR., whose marriage was an event in Alameda society.

which ensured her a large fortune. Frederick Stratton was one of the attorneys employed by her, and the winning of the suit started him on a successful career.

Mrs. Fish is of Scotch ancestry, and many visits are made by her to her old home across the seas. Her sister married Dr. Gardner of San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. George Fish are great travelers. They spend most of their time in Europe and their travels have extended almost around the world.

W. E. SHARON SPENDS TIME IN PIEDMONT.

Mr. W. E. Sharon, the well known Nevada mining man, has been spending some time in his California home. Mr. Sharon has long been in control of leading mines in Nevada, but his home has been for many years at Piedmont. Mr. and Mrs. Sharon, and their daughter, Miss Ruth Sharon, have been recent guests at Del Monte, and at Casa del Rey in Santa Cruz.

Robert Sharon, who is here from Yale University, has been the guest at his cousin's, the Frederick Sharons, at Menlo Park.

MRS. HART'S DEATH LOSS TO SOCIETY.

Society has a great loss to chronicle in the passing of Mrs. Howard Hamilton Hart. She had made many plans for the coming winter, and the great house at Claremont was to have been the scene of much social entertainment. Mrs. Hart's sudden passing brought a great shock to many friends around the bay, and also much regret. She had planned to take an active interest in club life, and bade fair to make an able and energetic president of the Forum Club. Mrs. Hart was taken very ill at her home in the mountains near Shasta Springs, and was brought to San Francisco. After an operation for appendicitis she was supposed to be recovering, but to the surprise of all, the end came suddenly.

The Hart home at Claremont is one of the most superb country homes in the county. It was built at a cost of nearly half a million dollars, and it has many art treasures brought back by the Harts from their trip around the world.

The Harts have earned and lost three fortunes; they lost all they achieved in Alaska, and Mr. Hart's present fortune is the result of his oil ventures in the South.

Mrs. Hart was very literary, and she was at work on a book describing life in Alaska, "the famous country of the sour-dough," when she was so suddenly stricken. The Harts have no children of their own, but they have adopted five, to whom they have given every advantage, in a happy and beautiful home.

MISS MYRA HALL IS COUNTRY GUEST.

Miss Florence Porter Pflinget has

Miss Myra Hall as her guest, and is entertaining her at the beautiful country home of the Porters at Watsonville. Mr. Hall and his daughter, Miss Myra Hall, will spend the autumn in Oakland, and they will be at the Claremont Country Club.

PICTURES IN THE MEDDLER.

Miss Margaret Coffin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Coffin and takes an active part in social gaieties.

Mrs. Frank Macomber Jr. was formerly Miss Adele Ehrenberg before her marriage, which took place a few weeks ago in Alameda and was attended by many of the fashionable folk of the bay region. Mrs. Macomber is a petite brunette and is noted for her unusual gifts of mind and person.

Mrs. Nelson Lansing is one of the most popular matrons of the bay region. Miss Pearl Delger is entertained on both sides of the bay, and takes an active part in the gaieties of Oakland and San Francisco.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA GIRLS ARE HOME.

The bright Kappa Kappa Gamma girls of the University have succeeded in planning the most ideal of vacations, and ten of them have enjoyed a wonderful vacation trip to the Islands. Girls can have an ideal time, when they are properly chaperoned, and the Kappa Kappas took with them to the Islands their chaperon, and, in consequence, they had "the time of their lives." The young girls went to Hilo, and automobiles took them to the base of Kilauea, the greatest volcano of the world. Boston scientists are now there, trying to determine the temperature of Kilauea. Among the Kappa Kappa Gamma girls who enjoyed the wonderful trip to the Islands was Miss Anita Crellin, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Arthur Crellin.

SCOTTS TO CLOSE "EAGLE'S NEST."

Mr. and Mrs. F. Walter Scott are preparing to close "Eagle's Nest," their camp on the Russian river for the summer, and they will probably return to their East Oakland home early next week, as Miss Adele Scott, the bright young daughter of the household, must resume her studies.

Mrs. Scott was in town early in the week, coming from Russian river for her mother's birthday, the birthday of dear Mrs. Rynders, who is what a bright writer calls, "eighty years young." Indeed she is younger than many people who have her age, for she is young at heart, with a beautiful, bright way of looking at life that makes her the most charming of companions. And she has that fine sense of humor which is the secret of everlasting youth. May she have many happy birthdays, shining brightly for her far down the future!

The Egbert Stones are also preparing to come back to town, having scored a great success with their Russian river camp. Mrs. Stone is willing to take endless trouble for her young people, and they have had many guests at their camp this summer.

Mrs. Stone is to bring out this winter her second daughter, Miss Marian Stone, and so she is planning to spend the coming season across the bay. The Stone girls have many people to make it pleasant for them there. Miss Jennie Stone is very fond of her nieces, and she entertained a great deal last winter, for Miss Harriet Stone. Miss Stone usually spends the winter at the Fairmont.

The Andrew L. Stones of Burlingame, the Misses Havemeyer, and the Misses Stone, make up an interesting family group that one often sees in social affairs across the bay.

ANNOUNCE DATES FOR DEBUTANTES.

Already interesting dates are announced for the many debutantes of the coming season. As they are the daughters of prominent families, much will be done for them in the way of social entertainment. Among the debutantes of the coming season will be Evelyn and Genevieve Cunningham, Marian Stone, Lupita Borel, Margaret Moore, Edith Goodfellow, Marian Crocker, Christine Parker, Christine Donohoe, and Louise Kellogg. They have all been educated in the East or abroad, and they are, for the most part, very charming girls.

MR. AND MRS. BLISS HERE FROM TAHOE.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Bliss Jr. have come from Lake Tahoe, and are spending some days at the St. Francis. Mrs. Bliss was formerly Florence Dunham of this city. Her sisters Miss Mary Dunham, and Mrs. Langdon are at the Dunham home in Los Gatos. Mr. and Mrs. Bliss make their permanent home in the Sierras, and have a delightful place near Lake Tahoe, where the Bliss family has extensive lumber interests.

SOULES TO HUNT IN WILDERNESS.

Mr. and Mrs. Beach Soule are planning to take their vacation this year in Humboldt county, as Beach Soule enjoys hunting and fishing. It is very primitive still in Humboldt and Mendocino counties, and they offer fine opportunities for the hunter and the fisherman.

HOME AFTER LONG VACATION TRIP.

Doctor and Mrs. J. Loran Pease are home again, after some weeks spent in a delightful vacation trip. They went from here directly to Montana, to visit Dr. Pease's mother. There was a family gathering of great interest in the old-time home in Montana, and one dear little mother's heart was made very glad by the home-coming of the children.

Dr. and Mrs. Pease came home by way of Seattle and greatly enjoyed their trip through the north. Mrs. William H. Richardson (Bessie Gage) after an absence of two years has returned to Oakland for a visit with her father, Stephen Gage, and with her sisters, Mrs. Pease and Mrs. George Gross. Mrs. Gross has not been out of town this summer, owing to the illness of her two charming children. The illness was only measles, but that is quite enough to keep any child at home. Mrs. Gross is a very devoted mother, and the children have had the happiest of vacations, even if Fate did make them stay at home.

The home-coming of Mrs. Richardson is always the signal for many social dates in the way of a welcome to her. She has been away from Oakland some years now, at school in New York, and in her home in Texas, but her old-time friends are always loyal, and there is much doing for her in a social way when she returns to her old home.

Mrs. Richardson spent some years at the Scoville School in New York City, and among others who received training there are Mrs. Taylor Bell, Mrs. William Childs, Mrs. Arthur Sargent (Elsie Kimble), Mrs. Challen Parker, Miss Christie Taft, Mrs. Frederick Diekmann.

Miss Emma Mahony has a great many friends on this side of the bay, who are greatly pleased to hear good news from her from the hospital.

VACATION SPENT IN THE MOUNTAINS.

Among those who have recently returned from a summer spent away are Mrs. Hubert Brown (Florence Sharon) and Mrs. Dan Belden. Mrs. Brown has a summer home at Idylwild in the Santa Cruz mountains, in which, with her children, she has spent the greater part of the summer. The Browns have a new machine, so motor trips are among their diversions of the summer.

Mrs. Dan Belden, one of the most attractive and most popular of the younger matrons, also spent with her children some weeks at Idylwild.

SARGENTS END TOUR OF NEW ENGLAND.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sargent are now in New York City, having spent a very delightful summer in touring New England. Mr. Sargent has extensive interests in Southern California and in Alaska.

VISITOR CORDIALLY WELCOMED HERE.

Mrs. William Hopkins, who is a guest of Mrs. Edward Brayton, is being cordially welcomed home by many friends. Mrs. Hopkins has been for the past three years abroad, spending most of the time in Paris, where she was a very popular member of the California colony. Mrs. Hopkins accompanied the Edward Braytons from New York. Mr. and Mrs. William Hopkins made many friends overseas, here in the summer that they spent with Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Bray at Piedmont.

The play was produced later in Native Sons' Hall, in Hayward, under the auspices of the Hill and Valley Club. Addresses on suffrage by Mrs. James E. Women in the News Today SEES COLLUSION IN DIVORCE CASE

Los Angeles Court Summons Gail Borden to Deny Charge That His Indifference Is Due to Agreement With His Wife

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12.—Gail Borden's indifference and apparent lack of interest in his wife's suit for divorce that came up before Judge Houser, struck the court so forcibly that after hearing the testimony of the plaintiff wife and her Spanish maid, Louise Grijalva, the judge said he wasn't satisfied that collusion did not exist and continued the hearing until Monday afternoon in order that the husband might be interrogated. Borden, of condensed milk fame, is permitting the suit to go by default, although he is within the jurisdiction of the court. He started for Catalina with his charming young daughter, Ramona, about the time his wife was going up to the stand to recite her domestic troubles. To his attorney, Eugene Overton, the millionaire said: "Make it as easy as possible for Mrs. Borden to get her decree. You need not wire me the outcome of the trial, for I am not interested one way or the other. I have given her $75,000 worth of property and agreed to give her a monthly income of $500 as long as she lives. With her freedom on top of all of this she ought to be a happy woman." Borden's wife, Mrs. Henry York Borden, is a Los Angeles and New York society woman. She charges her husband deserted her in July, 1909, after fifteen years of married life—most of which was unhappy. The husband interposed no defense whatever.

Girl Spanked for Wedding

QUINCY, Aug. 11.—Edward Prince and Edna Acres eloped on horseback from Clio and were married here. On returning from the Methodist parsonage to their hotel after the ceremony, the parents of the bride, who had followed in pursuit hoping to prevent the ceremony, confronted them. When they learned the wedding ceremony had been performed, Mrs. Acres boxed the groom's ears soundly and then, in view of a large number of summer tourists, spanked her daughter.

An application to the sheriff revealed the fact that the girl was only 16, and the parents could proceed against Prince.

in a criminal action. After some consultation, argument and pleading, however, on behalf of the bride and groom, Mrs. Prince's parents forgave her and the two couples left for home, a happy wedding party.

Forgives Heiress for Marriage

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—The secret marriage of Chester W. Chapin, a young Chicago broker's clerk, and Miss Lillian Meade, a London society girl and heiress, five months ago, was made public yesterday. Thus was unfolded a pretty story of an international romance.

Cupid's triumph was made complete when Judge William Field, a retired member of London's judiciary, who, as guardian and uncle of the bride, opposed her marriage to the young American and even refused to recognize it afterward, made a belated public announcement of the wedding, forgave all and bestowed his blessing.

Two hearts that were glad before were filled with joy when intelligence of the unrelenting guardian's change of attitude was conveyed to the couple at their six-room flat.

Astor and Fiancee Guests

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 12.—Colonel John Jacob Astor, besides entertaining his fiancée, Madeline Force, again today with another yachting party, was the guest, with Miss Force, last night at one of the most elaborate dinner dances that has been given here this summer. The affair was given by Mr. and Mrs. James Haggis at their summer home in honor of a cousin of Mrs. Haggis, Miss Tevis Camden of Versailles, Ky. Mrs. Haggis included among her dinner guests about a hundred of the leading summer residents.

Robbed of College Money

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12.—Miss Elsie L. Jones, who was kidnapped and robbed by two supposed negroes, who were lying in wait in the rear of her home when she returned from work, is a University of California student, making her own way. She had a good start toward the money to carry her through the next school year at Berkeley, and the robbers got $24 of this which she had expected to increase by a quick investment. The loss is so serious to her that she may be unable to return to the university this fall.

From Miss Jones' description of the persons who overpowered her and then applied an anesthetic, the police believe they may have been negroes in women's clothing.

Much Love, No Work

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 12.—A husband can be too affectionate and too poetic, according to the testimony of Mrs. Wentworth Carter, whose suit for divorce was tried in the circuit court here yesterday.

"Too much poetry, too many kisses, too much love, too many smiles and too little work make an unfit husband," she said.

Mrs. Carter said that when she married Carter ten years ago she was temporarily blinded by love and a deluge of poetry.

"He was positively irresistible, but he would not work, Judge," she wanted to tell me all the time. When our last cent was gone he went to South Carolina to live with an uncle. There is not much poetry or romance in that, is there?"

The judge granted her petition.

Reveals Secret to Nurse

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 12.—Just before he died at the county hospital John Costo, aged 52, twenty years ago a prominent Seattle contractor, whispered to his nurse that he had buried more than $30,000 in the ground back of his lonely hut in the Cascade mountains near the Great Northern railway's tunnel at Wellington, Kings county, where he had lived the life of a hermit for two decades. County officials immediately placed watchers at Costo's cabin to prevent thieves from recovering the gold hidden by the wealthy miser, and a search is being made for his heirs.

TRAIN DERAILED ON STRIKING WASHOUT

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—A report received by officials of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad says that an east-bound local passenger train ran into a stretch of washed-out track between Wyaneta and Tiskilwa, Ill., today and was derailed. The engineer and baggage man were injured.

AS A MAN SEES BEAUTY CULTURE

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright, 1911, By Lillian Russell.)

IN A posthumous article in one of the August magazines David Graham Phillips says some true things on the subject of the importance of beauty culture. Mr. Phillips was a confirmed misogynist, but he succeeded in telling us some facts that, while they made us squirm, yet we had to acknowledge their accuracy. In this article Mr. Phillips is trying to tell us how to retain the love of husbands, and he says: "There is no beauty age. But put aside every other means of holding a husband and consider only the physical. There is a tradition (false, as is almost all tradition) that woman's period of physical charm is brief, that nature gives her physical charm for a few years to enable her to entrap the male and then takes it from her."

"True, nature does endeavor to do so. But if nature succeeds it is the fault of the woman. What are we here for but to improve upon nature in every way? And again we find women who appreciate this vital truth and steadily increase in physical charm from 20 to 45 and even 50."

"Of course, if a woman, finding her natural charms fading after a few years of scandalous neglect of the laws of hygiene, attempts to repair or to hide the ravages with paint and false hair and dressmakers' contrivances for developing the bust or for reducing the hips she is not going to be physically attractive long, however clever she may be at artificiality. But artificiality is not improving upon nature; it is mere stupid imitation of nature's clumsy makeshift, carelessness."

"The woman whose charms grow fresher and more bewitching with the years is she who keeps her youth—lets neither her mind nor her body run down."

"Nothing worth having comes without effort. The physically gone-to-pieces woman is she who, through laziness and vanity, will not make an effort."

"And such a woman is never vain as in expecting her husband to find her more attractive than any other woman when she is in fact endurable only because he is used to her."

"It is a rule without exception that no woman who keeps herself up to the mark ever loses the love of a man she has once won. Man is too much the creature of habit, too little the rover. Give him a fraction of a chance and he will never wander."

Here is a remedy at first hand, and it should be read carefully by those numberless women who have been writing to me lately asking what they should do to retain their husband's love.

Mr. Phillips tells them what I have been trying to do ever since I started these articles. It is confirmation of my theories from where I least expected it.

Remember—Mr. Phillips says—"there is a good deal of the fool in the husband who can love by unaided reminiscence of what you used to be."

MRS. C.: There is no more effectual treatment for callosities on the feet than to soak them every night for at least ten minutes in hot water made soapy. At the end of that time, after drying, the hard spots are rubbed with a piece of pumice stone, not the prepared kind but the stone in its rough condition. Constant rubbing night after night will greatly reduce the callosities. Through the day cushion the feet in soft shoes that should be worn and the feet should be well covered with cold cream or vaseline to prevent the callosities hardening. I am sending you by mail an inexpensive remedy for superfluous hair.

MISS A.: I do not know of any permanent remedy for freckles. Freckles are an obstinate beauty blemish and no matter how many times they are faded out they are always ready to return when the skin is exposed to sun and wind. "JULIA GERAGHTY."

Former Miss French Declares She Will Never Leave Husband.

BOSTON, Aug. 12.—In one of the most remarkable and interesting statements ever made by a girl to a newspaper Mrs. "Jack" Geraghty, formerly Miss Julia Steele French of Newport, told a reporter all about her elopement with Geraghty, how they planned to marry in spite of her parents' opposition, how devotedly she loves her handsome young husband and how she will not give him up for all the world.

Among the more striking statements made by Mrs. Geraghty in her story are: "I'd rather live with Jack in a dog kennel than in any palace with some society fool."

"We'll fight the case," she has reiterated in her conversations, showing how deep and true is her love for the handsome, broad-shouldered young man ever present by her side.

Among the other statements were the following: "If they try to separate us we will fight the case."

"We have done no wrong. I am of age. I know my own mind."

"This is a step we have planned for two years."

"I am willing to go with my husband wherever he goes. I have no desire whatever to go back to what they call society."

SHE CAN KEEP HOUSE.

"I can keep house. I know all about marketing. I have practiced this faculty in my own home in preparation for just this occasion."

"I have no money of my own, though I see that some people seem to think I have. But my husband can support me and support me well. He is earning $50 a week. The papers put his pay at $50 a month. That is not true. He is an automobile demonstrator and gets $50 a week now. That was how I met him, when he was demonstrating a car for me."

"We were determined to get married. My parents forbade him to see me. Then we decided to elope. Our elopement was hastened because my father was going to pack me off to Europe. I was told to get ready to go abroad. I told Jack."

SENDS LETTER TO MOTHER.

"But, instead of packing my trunks to go to Europe, I packed a suitcase and eloped with Jack."

Such were some of the cool, clear headed statements made by this bride of about 18 years, who had forsaken wealth for the man she loves.

Mrs. Geraghty was asked if she had written her mother and said: "Yes, I wrote to mamma as soon as we arrived in Springfield. Asked what she wrote, Mrs. Geraghty replied as follows:

the waist, keeping the knees straight and trying to touch the floor with the fingers. It is difficult to do without bending the knees. Really there is no excuse for a large abdomen in these days of corset magic. Bear in mind that you must be fitted to a corset in these days. If you order a stock corset, which does not fit exactly over the hips and abdomen, your dressmaker can make it in for you if you cannot go to the shop where alterations are made. You will have to pay at the very least $5 and the corset must fit your particular figure. It will not hurt you—a corset that fits is a comfort and a support. If you will send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope I shall send you by mail the dietary for reducing flesh."

HEART CRIES OUT FOR HUSBAND

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y.—A real life story of tragic pathos is told in the following letter which Chief of Police J. D. McCoach received this morning from Pittsburg:

"Dear Sir—I write to request you to try and locate my husband, Theodore M. Cox. He was employed by the Union Straw factory as foreman five years ago."

"I have eaten up with cancer."

"We had trouble, I left him and went home. I know that I was in the wrong. But oh, how my heart cries out to him now! I have tried to kill the love, but instead it grew stronger. I have taught his child, whom he never saw, to love him, and there is never a day that he does not speak of 'my dear darling papa.'"

"Please, Chief, try and locate him for me. I beseech you. Hoping and praying that you will help me."

"Very truly yours,"

"MRS. THEODORE M. COX."

A Theodore M. Cox, an employee of the Union Hat works, is listed in the Middletown city directory of 1906 as living at No. 18 Low avenue. Nothing is known of the man by the chief of police, but an earnest effort will be made to locate him.

WILLING TO LIVE IN DOG KENNEL WITH 'JACK'

Former Miss French Declares She Will Never Leave Husband.

BOSTON, Aug. 12.—In one of the most remarkable and interesting statements ever made by a girl to a newspaper Mrs. "Jack" Geraghty, formerly Miss Julia Steele French of Newport, told a reporter all about her elopement with Geraghty, how they planned to marry in spite of her parents' opposition, how devotedly she loves her handsome young husband and how she will not give him up for all the world.

Among the more striking statements made by Mrs. Geraghty in her story are: "I'd rather live with Jack in a dog kennel than in any palace with some society fool."

"We'll fight the case," she has reiterated in her conversations, showing how deep and true is her love for the handsome, broad-shouldered young man ever present by her side.

'PRINTS' BEGIN TO ARRIVE ON COAST

Delegates on Missouri River Special Entertained at Sacramento.

Round of Festivities Planned for Typographical Convention Visitors.

After a four-days' ride from Missouri river points the special train of nine cars, including an observation and a commissary car, the touring delegates and visiting printers on their way to attend the convention at San Francisco arrived at Sacramento yesterday afternoon, where true California hospitality was extended by the union printers of that city.

The train was known as the "Missouri Special," but many were from various points outside of Missouri river territory, some being from as far south as Houston, Tex., and Shreveport, La., and some from points in Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma. The greater portion of the party came from the cities of St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph, Mo.

Upon the arrival of the party at Sacramento they were taken to a nearby hotel, where a hurried reception was given. Each visitor was presented with a huge bouquet of flowers, fruit of various kinds and pint bottles of wine.

Another special train will arrive in this city this evening en route to San Francisco. This train will consist of about sixteen coaches. It is designated the "Chicago Special," and will have in the party delegates and visitors from the cities in the great lakes region. The party will be shown the same courtesies as was extended the travelers on the "Missouri Special."

The Chicago delegates will add materially to the big crowd of printers already registered at the headquarters at the Argonaut hotel in San Francisco.

There are many women visitors in the parties and show deep interest in their arrival in California by asking innumerable questions about its climate, places of interest, styles and fashions, cost of living and about everything else of interest to them.

Special trains and small parties of delegates and visitors are arriving from the north and south.

This evening a reception to the women will be held in the parlors of the Argonaut hotel, San Francisco. A "get-together" will also be held at Lyric hall in San Francisco this evening, when the city will dispense California hospitality to the men delegates and visitors.

Tomorrow morning the delegates and visitors will be taken on a steamer to various points of interest about the bay. At Winehaven a dinner will be served.

Wednesday afternoon is designated "Ochling day." On this occasion the visitors from all parts of the United States and Canada will be shown the city of Oakland, and a dinner will be served in the evening at Idora Park.

BLACKMAIL PLOT FOILED BY POLICE

Mrs. A. M. Billings, Mother of Horseman, Is Intended Victim.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Mrs. A. M. Billings, mother of C. K. G. Billings, the millionaire gas magnate and horseman, was the intended victim of a blackmailing scheme or possibly of a hoax inspired by the Marengo case, which was frustrated today by the arrest of John Mills, a negro.

Last night Mrs. Billings received a letter, which she turned over to private detectives, instructing her on pain of death to give $500 to a man who would call today and ask her for work.

When Mills appeared and asked for employment he was arrested. He denied any guilt. He said he arrived here from Cairo, Ill., last night and was asked by a stranger at the depot if he wanted to earn $50. The man gave him the instructions, which, he says, he carried out.

WORK ON PHI GAMMA DELTA BUILDING SOON TO BEGIN

New and permanent home of the Delta XI Chapter of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, Bancroft Way, Berkeley. T. G. Newsome, architect.

Work on the new Phi Gamma Delta building, on the south side of Bancroft way between Bowditch and College avenue, is to be begun Monday. The structure will be one of the most ornate and architecturally beautiful in the University town.

Contracts for the construction have been let to R. H. Van Sant for $20,000. J. Cather Newsome of the Monadnock building, San Francisco, is the architect. The architecture is of the French Renaissance style, dignified and lasting. Its modillion and dentilled cornice, Corinthian columns and window treatment, have a handsome effect.

Iron balconies project from the upper windows for plants and give a pleasing color effect to the ivory-cream tint of the structure. The interior of the building will contain a reception hall, 35x30, feet, with a beamed ceiling and paneled wainscot. From this hall will lead an expansive staircase with a platform or landing half way for orchestras during receptions or other public entertainments.

There will also be a living room, 25x30 feet, a dining room of the same dimensions, a library 20x25 feet. All of these will be treated in the old Dutch type of interior design with a seven-foot paneled wainscot, heavy trussed beams, bookcases, seats, unique special wooden art glass and china fixtures, maple floors and all modern suggestions for interior comfort.

The kitchen department will be arranged after the latest ideas which obtain in eastern clubhouses, containing pantries, closets, dressers, refrigerators and bins for the storing of articles of all kinds. The basement will contain among other things the "jinks" room, 30x75 feet, with a brick floor and wainscot and will be inclosed with rough redwood above the wainscot.

The upper story will contain sleeping accommodations for seventeen members, each of the apartments having closets and the latest of plumbing designs. The floors will be finished for rugs throughout. All the apartments will be well ventilated and the walls and ceilings tinted in rich tones. The building, when ready for occupancy, together with the lot upon which it is constructed, will approximate $35,000 in value and the whole will be one of the best of the kind on the Pacific coast.

HOUSE REJECTS IDEA OF LEMONS ON FREE LIST

Proposal to Limit Free Meat and Cereals to Canada Is Also Turned Down

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The conference on the free list bill today refused to agree to the Kern Senate amendment, limiting the free admission of meats and cereals to those countries with which the United States had reciprocal trade agreements, which was designed to confine such free importation to imports from Canada. It also refused to agree to the House amendment adding lemons to the free list.

Stolen Silverware Valued at $30,000

New York Police Scour City for the Accused Leader of Shoplifters.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The police are scouring New York today for Benjamin Silver, bartender at a Brooklyn saloon, who is wanted to explain the presence in his home of $30,000 worth of jewelry and silverware bearing tags of New England stores. Detectives who broke open the door after vainly searching for Silver assert that the articles were concealed in nearly every room of the house.

Acting upon the telegraphic advice from the Boston police, the detectives sought Silver to explain what had become of packages sent him by two Boston women who are locked up there on a charge of shoplifting.

E. church, south, assisted by Dr. Hyatt, pastor of the American church, who was a boyhood playmate of Gates, but had never met him in later life. About 200 American friends and acquaintances of the financier from all parts of the United States were present. The body will be taken to Cherbourg Tuesday and placed on board the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, which will sail on the following day for New York. Mrs. Gates and Charles G. Gates will accompany the body.

HIGHWAY PLANS TO BE DISCUSSED

Delegates From Commerce Chamber to Attend Gathering at Yolo Saturday.

Delegates from the local Chamber of Commerce and the county supervisors will attend the meeting called for Saturday, August 19, at Davis, Yolo county, to consider the project of the construction of a branch of the new state highway across the Yolo basin, through Davis and Dixon, on its route from Sacramento to Oakland and San Francisco.

This meeting is an outgrowth of the one held last Sunday at Suisun, when the delegates in favor of this route formulated their campaign. Secretary A. A. Denison of the local chamber attended the meeting of last Sunday, and will probably represent that body again on Saturday. County Surveyor E. A. Haviland is also expected to be present. The meeting will be an important one and each chamber of commerce to be represented has been asked to send as many delegates as possible. These delegates will be on hand, it is expected, from the territory bounded by the Straits of Carquinez and the Oregon line. The meeting is held primarily under the auspices of the Yolo Basin State Highway Association, the name adopted for the organization last Sunday.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Andrew Carnegie sent to Washington $25,000 of $100,000 he promised for beautifying the grounds of the Pan-American Union building. The chief feature of the improvements will be marble steps and marble coping. It is understood bids for the construction soon will be requested.

Sea Marriage of Local Musician Is Held Valid

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12.—That marriage at sea is valid, and that licenses in such matrimonial cases are unnecessary, are the principal points of decision entered in the court records today in the divorce case of Mrs. Selma Bloom against Andrew Jackson Bloom, a musician of Oakland, Cal.

Bloom, whose wife interfered almost at the moment of his marriage to a wealthy Mexican girl in El Paso, contended that the marriage on shipboard, performed by the captain of the steamer City of Sydney, off the coast of Guatemala, was invalid. But Judge Bartlett of the county Superior Court held otherwise, and granted Mrs. Bloom a decree. The court held that American marriage laws did not apply off the coast of Guatemala, and that common law marriage in such a case was valid.

2 LIVES COST OF JOKE ON FRIEND

Officers Play Part of Robbers and Die Under Rush of Bullets.

Shooter Collapses When He Learns Victims of Gun Are Bosom Companions.

DETROIT, Aug. 12.—Particulars of the shooting of Daniel Vreeland and Frank J. Cook, special detectives for the Lake Shore railroad, who were killed last night by Special Officer Burnett of the Michigan Central railroad on the Michigan Central tracks near Junction avenue, show that the men met death as the result of a joke they attempted to play on Burnett.

They were all on the best of terms and met at the junction of the two railroad every night. Last night Cook and Vreeland, knowing that Burnett had trouble with two car robbers, decided they would hide behind a car and spring out on him as he passed.

Burnett, not recognizing either of the men in the darkness, drew his gun and shot four times at them, three of the bullets taking effect. One went through Cook's heart, the other two striking Vreeland in the head and chest. Burnett then ran down the tracks to Junction avenue, where he met Patrolman Daniel O'Connor, who was hastening toward the scene of the shooting.

"I've just shot a couple of car thieves," he said. The two men then went back and looked at the bodies. When Burnett saw who the two men were he had shot he broke down. O'Connor took him to the Fourth precinct station, where he was locked up.

OAKLAND MAN HELD FOR SHOOTING

Henry Servis Is Jailed When Stephen Carracuo Is Found Wounded.

Morning Fracas on Barbary Coast Almost Has Fatal Termination.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—Following a fracas on the Barbary Coast at 2 o'clock this morning, in which four men were concerned, Henry Servis of 1807 Seventh street, Oakland, was locked up, charged with assault to murder and Stephen Carracuo, a fireman on the S. S. Republic, was taken to the Harbor hospital suffering from a gun shot wound in the left side.

Explanations of the affair differ materially, Carracuo and a companion, Antonio Sambo, claiming that they were held up by Servis and a friend of his, Conney Slaughter; whereas the last named asserts that it was the other two who attempted to rob them.

Policemen Casey and Clark heard three shots, and, running in the direction of the sound, came to Pacific street, near Battery, where they found Carracuo lying on the pavement bleeding from a wound, with Slaughter bending over him, and Servis holding Sambo at bay with a revolver and warning him not to move if he valued his life.

Dr. Miller found that Carracuo was not seriously wounded and he was removed to the city prison early this morning, whither Slaughter, Sambo and Servis had preceded him. All three were held merely as witnesses and pending a further investigation by the detective department.

HARVESTER CO. BRANDS REPORT 'GROSS UNTRUTH'

Declares Townsend Findings Are Based on Whole Cloth; Answer Filed With Investigators

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—That the arguments and conclusions of the so-called Townsend report are based on clearly erroneous statements, is the opening assertion in a reply by Edgar Bancroft, counsel for the International Harvester Company, filed today with the House "steel trust" investigating committee.

The Townsend report was filed with the committee a short time ago.

"Nearly every important statement relating to the purpose of the investigation," the reply continues, "is either grossly inaccurate or wholly untrue. The general inaccuracy of the report is borne out by mis-statement even in the names of the president and chairman of the board of the International Harvester Company, and names of the voting trustees. Although they were all widely known and a matter of public record for four years prior to the making of the report.

"The fundamental charge of a conspiracy to create a monopoly based on the report on the charge that the knotters in the self binder is protected by patents and that the International Harvester Company owns the patents on all the best types of knotters.

DENIES PATENT.

"The truth is, there is no patent whatever on the essential part of any type of knotters and there has not been any such patent in force since 1895, when the Appleby patent expired. This fact not only appears in the records of the office, but is known to every manufacturer of self-binders and to every principal dealer in them.

"Neither are there any existing patents upon any essential part of the grain binding machine. The many basic patents had all expired in 1895, and there have been no substantial patented improvements since 1890—twenty years ago—when the life of a patent, as is well known, is only 17 years."

The statement of the Townsend report that of nine different types of grain binders purchased by the International Harvester Company, all but three have been abandoned and that repairs are not furnished for any others, is branded by Attorney Bancroft as "notoriously and absolutely false." He further says that "repairs for every type then (at the time of the report) were and have ever since been furnished by the company when and wherever called for."

"The charge of a binder twine trust is without any foundation whatsoever."

had the vigorous competition of one large and six smaller twine manufacturers in addition to seven state penalitaries.

ANSWERS REBATE CHARGE.

As to the charge that the International Harvester Company receives rebates from railroads and special concessions from the United States Steel Corporation, the reply declares "the Harvester company's relation to the United States Steel Corporation," and that during the last seven years it has bought from the steel corporation "10 per cent of its total needs, while it has purchased from the International Harvester Company's subsidiary corporation, the Wisconsin Steel Company."

As to the charge of increasing prices, the company asserts that instead of increasing them, its influence has been to bring the price of raw materials has increased more than 30 per cent, its prices were not increased until 1908, and then only 10 per cent, and for 1912 a reduction of 5 per cent was announced last month.

On the subject of foreign prices, "the Harvester company denies that 'perennial falsehood' that agricultural implements are sold abroad cheaper than at any home," and declares that the government's own investigation published in the daily consular and trade reports of February, March and April, 1909, shows that the prices for the six-foot binder, which is sold in America for $125, are as follows: France, $173.50; Germany, $203.00; Denmark, $167.50; Russia, $145.00; Great Britain, $135.16, and that "the net prices received by the American manufacturer are greater on the machines sold abroad than at home."

As to the charge that the International Harvester Company is a monopoly, the reply is that it was not a merger of existing corporations, but a new one in which the twine industry was saved by persons not heretofore in the harvester business.

"Finally, the company denies that 'any plants purchased by it were closed or abandoned, but states that the plants were enlarged, improved and have employed more men than ever before.'"

To Make Term of President Six Years

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—An amendment to the constitution providing that the President and Vice President be elected for terms of six years instead of four, and not be eligible to succeed themselves, has been introduced by Representative Fields of Kentucky. Mr. Fields also offered an amendment making the term of representatives three instead of two years.

Charles S. Fee, passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, and a member of the publicity and exploitation committee of the Panama-Pacific exposition, is returning here on the steamer Mongolia and sent the following telegram, which was received this morning by President Moore:

"Congratulations for yourself and the board upon the splendid solution of the fair site. We must now work for Greater San Francisco so that we may have a million here in 1915."

J. H. Pierce, a local inventor, has communicated with headquarters regarding a hydroplane, which will travel on land and water and carry passengers, which he hopes to exhibit at the fair.

All the civic organizations are lined up for the monster Astoria trip, which leaves here next week.

PLAN RAIDS ON CHINESE 'JOINTS'

Police to Investigate Charges That Playing Is on Increase.

Fines and Forfeitures Imposed Today as Result of Activity.

Investigation is being made of the charge that Chinese lottery gambling is on the increase, and should the police find this to be the case, a number of raids may be attempted within the next two weeks. The matter was brought to the attention of the police by the civic committee of the Oakland Church Federation.

Fines and forfeitures resulting from a raid upon a Chinese lottery house at 411 Eleventh street were imposed by Judge Aaron Turner in police court No. 1 this morning, amounting to $140. Ah Sam was fined $50 for selling lottery tickets, and a number of white men were fined $10 each for visiting a lottery selling place.

It is the complaint of those who are anxious to make an energetic campaign against the lottery places that the game is a "white man's game," and is not played extensively by the Chinese themselves. Thousands of dollars are taken out of Oakland every month, it is alleged, by the Chinese lottery company, and most of this comes from the pockets of Americans.

The cases in Judge Turner's court were disposed of this morning as follows:

Ah Sam, selling lottery tickets, $50; Jack Adams, $10 bail forfeited; John Edwards, $10 bail forfeited; John Lewis, $10 bail forfeited; W. Williams, $10 bail forfeited; George Perry, $10 bail forfeited; Edward Thomas, $10 bail forfeited; H. S. Rogers, $10 bail forfeited; George Fletcher, $10 bail forfeited; John Cox, $10 bail forfeited.

WOULD INVITE ROOSEVELT TO HELP

Fair Directors Told He Would Be Appropriate Visitor at Ground Breaking.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—That former President Roosevelt be also invited to take part in the groundbreaking ceremonies for the Panama-Pacific exposition was the suggestion made today by Edward B. Webster, chairman of the Oakland progress and prosperity committee to the board of directors. In advocating the sending of an invitation to Colonel Roosevelt, Webster calls attention to his activities in connection with the canal, "he being the only ex-President living, and the man above all others who really brought the Panama canal into America's industrial light, and to whom great honor and greater credit should be given."

John Barrett, President Taft's representative at San Diego, wired President Moore today as follows:

"As an expression of my interest in your exposition and of my desire to help you in every possible way, I have today wired the President that at the close of my visit to the Pacific coast, reaching from San Diego to Seattle, and realizing more than ever the importance of your exposition, I urged upon him, as a compliment to San Francisco, California and the whole coast, as well, to accept your invitation to come to the splendid and broad ground for you this October. Best wishes to you and your fellow directors."

FEE RETURNS.

Charles S. Fee, passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, and a member of the publicity and exploitation committee of the Panama-Pacific exposition, is returning here on the steamer Mongolia and sent the following telegram, which was received this morning by President Moore:

"Congratulations for yourself and the board upon the splendid solution of the fair site. We must now work for Greater San Francisco so that we may have a million here in 1915."

J. H. Pierce, a local inventor, has communicated with headquarters regarding a hydroplane, which will travel on land and water and carry passengers, which he hopes to exhibit at the fair.

All the civic organizations are lined up for the monster Astoria trip, which leaves here next week.

Woman Loses Piece of Tongue in Auto Wreck

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 12.—Any one willing to part with about an inch of his tongue can strike a bargain with the parents of Miss Inez Long, of Independence, Mo., who lost a part of her tongue in an automobile accident.

Miss Long was thrown out of the car, her head striking the ground with great force. She bit her tongue almost off. Miss Long's physicians believe the only hope of saving the tongue will be by grafting a new piece to the torn part.

Wolverton's Bunch Goes After Beavers and Gives Them a Merry Trimming

OAKS COME BACK AND GIVE BEAVERS A TRIMMING

Koestner and Harkness Are Easy, While Gregory Is All
to the Good.

PORTLAND, Aug. 12.—Oakland had sweet revenge on the lucky Beavers yesterday and gave them a lacing that they won't forget. Runs and hits came with a frequency that had McCredie walking up and down the coaching line like a caged lion, and when it was all over he was one mad manager, for if ever a man wants to win a ball game that man is Walter McCredie.

It was Koestner who received the worse pounding, although the reception tendered Harkness wasn't much sweeter. Right off the reel Oakland began hammering Elmer and when Maggart boosted out a homer in the first round with the bases jammed Mac's woes were many.

For Oakland it was Gregory who hurled and while he was hit hard his team mates showed the real baseball spirit behind him and gave him par excellent support.

The figures below will tell more about Oakland's easy victory.

DIAMOND GOSSIP

Oakland shook the flux yesterday and with Gregory in the box got away with a 11 to 2 game from the Beavers. Back of Gregory the boys hit the ball early and often and for once things broke to the liking of the Wolverines.

Everybody in the Oaks' lineup grabbed off one or more bingles, the nine men getting fifteen all told. Four of these were two-baggers and one was a homer. Maggart gathered but one bingle yesterday up in Portland, but that one bingle was a hummer for it went over the lot and every base on the diamond had a runner perched there just before he swung it.

Nary a boggle made the Oaks and their fling was faultless. Cutshaw, Wares and Wolverton had several hard chances, but they gathered all of them in big league style.

Oakland has exercised her right to recall Don Cameron and a dispatch from Portland says that Wolverton will have big Don back on first base for the Oaks the 1st of September.

JIM COFFROTH MAY PUT ON LOCAL TALENT THIS MONTH

Sunshine Still Has Hopes That He Can Land Bill Papke;
Attractions Scarce.

Sunshine Jimmy Coffroth thinks he has something up his sleeve that will satisfy the hungry fight fan for the month of August, now that all hope of bringing Nelson and Britt together has fled.

Jeems is figuring on a ten or fifteen round bout between local talent. That is, if the local talent do not demand a million dollars a minute to don the padded mits.

Who will be who in these bouts is still doubtful, but Jeems has told Gregory Mitchell to go ahead and sign up somebody who will be agreeable to the fight patrons. Should Gregory land a couple of likely looking mitt-men they will be asked to step into the ring on Friday evening, August 25.

STILL HOPES FOR PAPKE.

Coffroth is still hopeful of finding a way to bring Bill Papke out west to box despite the grand hook that has been handed to this scrapper by the over-the-bay lawnmowers.

Papke's dates for the latter part of August and the first part of September are taken up, said the Sunshine Club man, "and if I match him with Klaus it would have to be later in the fall or in the winter months. If necessary, I could stage the bout outside of San Francisco, but close enough to draw the people."

ABE WANTS THE COIN.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12.—Abe Attell respects Joe Rivers, the Mexican boy, as he respects no other featherweight contender for the public. That a twenty-round clash between himself and Rivers would result in the world's 125-pound championship being transferred to the climbing Californian is the only deduction to be made from a frank telegram sent by Attell.

A flat offer of $50,000 has been made by Promoter Tom McCarey to the champion to come to here and box Rivers on New Year's day with the proviso that Rivers should survive the featherweight tournament arranged for between the Mexican, Johnny Kilbane, Frankie Conley and Patsy Kilna.

To tell telegraphed the following message:

"New York, Aug. 11.—Am getting big money here to box 'sucker' ten rounds. For me to go twenty rounds with a boy like Rivers would expect $20,000 for my end, as all I gain is the money. Rivers gains the world's championship and all the money and glory that follows. I am offered a guarantee of $1000 with privilege of 37 1/2 per cent to box Knockout Brown ten rounds."

ABE ATTELL.

"That's more money than Abe ever got in his life for making one fight," said the promoter. "It shows that he has a world of respect for Rivers. I'll have to talk with Rivers' manager, Joe Levy, and take a few hours to think the thing over."

MCCARTHY AND RITCHIE DRAW.

Willie Ritchie and Johnny McCarthy battled to a draw in their fourth round encounter at the Golden Gate club's boxing entertainment at the Palace last evening. Ritchie was clever, but his skill was offset by McCarthy's aggressiveness, and Referee Hanlon called the bout a draw.

Charlie Miller knocked out Joe Long in the third round of their fight. Jerry Murphy and Danny Fouchy drew, as did Buck Lamon and Scotty Miller.

Decisions were awarded to Charlie White over Kid Booker, and to Yulio Watanabe, the Japanese boxer, over Joe Hill. He knocked out Young Sambo in the first round and Henry Rees was awarded the fight with Jack Yulcinch in the fourth round on a foul.

BON VOYAGE BREAKS STALLION RECORD AT WOODLAND

Large Crowd Witnesses Clever
Racing; Plenty of Excitement for Visitors.

WOODLAND, Aug. 12.—Yesterday's entries brought out the best racing and the largest crowd of the week.

The finishes were exciting and every heat was a horse race.

It remained, however, for Bon Voyage, the big black stallion owned by W. A. Clark, Jr., and driven by Ted Hayes.

The valuable son of Expedition and Bon Mot established a new California record for stallions when he stepped the pole of the 2:12 trot in the fast time of 2:05.

Besides these great performances, three new horses were added to the 2:10 class—Von Voyage, 2:08; Nordwell, 2:04; and Kingbrook, 2:10.

It was Nordwell's initial appearance on the California circuit.

The exhibition races against time were featured by the splendid performance of Dick Verne, belonging to A. B. Rodman.

The little brown gelding gave a most creditable performance.

Sam Gilde, attempted to lower 2:25 1/2 paces, but failed in two efforts.

The San Francisco horse, Dawn, by Searchlight, was in good condition and worked a mile in 2:17 to beat 2:25 1/2 paces.

YACHT PRESTO WILL DEFEND COLORS OF CORINTHIANS

The regatta committee of the Corinthian Yacht Club yesterday announced that the sloop Presto will defend the club's title to the Perpetual challenge cup which it now holds.

The San Francisco Yacht Club issued the challenge, naming the sloop Challenger as the boat to represent it in the coming race.

The Corinthian club has notified the San Francisco club that the course will be over the usual "Channel course," so well known to the yachtsmen on the bay.

The race will be sailed a week from today, and Challenger are fully tuned up for the great race and special steamers are being chartered by the club.

The Corinthian club has held the cup continuously since 1904.

MAYBE WE WILL SOME DAY GET THE REAL
PRICE PAID

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Aug. 12.—A check for $5000 was received by the National Commission here yesterday, which will be forwarded to the St. Paul club of the American Association for Catcher Kelly.

In speaking of the report that the Pittsburgh club paid $12,500 for Kelly, both President Drexler of the National Commission and Chairman Herrmann of the National Commission were emphatic in their denial that more than $5000 had been paid for the player.

RIVAL SOCIAL CLUBS TO PLAY.

Much interest is manifested in the outcome of the baseball game tomorrow between Le Tress Joll Club of Oakland and the L'Allegro Club of San Francisco, which will take place at Lakeside.

The game will be called at 10 a. m., and a large delegation of rooters will accompany both teams.

After the game the Oakland club will be the guest of the L'Allegro at a banquet in their summer home near Lakeside.

UHLAN SHOWS SPEED IN HALF MILE TROT AT CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 12.—Trotting a half mile to wagon in the wonderful time of 0:55 1/2, on North Randall track yesterday, Uhlman, gelding son of Bingen, clipped 3 1/2 seconds from the record established by Major Delmar in 1906.

The remarkable half mile trot not only is a trotting half mile record to wagon, but was faster than Major Delmar's 0:59 1/2 half mile to sulky.

Uhlman, a yearling, was owned by C. K. G. Billings, Uhlman's owner, in the light wagon, alongside a runner driven by "Doc" Turner, Uhlman's trainer.

The first quarter was trotted in 0:23 1/2, against a stiff breeze. The second quarter, with the wind at the gelding's side, was done in 0:27 1/2, the final eighth mile in 0:13 1/2, a clip which, if maintained, would send Uhlman a mile to wagon in 1:46.

In addition to Uhlman, another champion was brought forth today, Peter Thompson, son of Peter the Great, upsetting the three-year-old trotting gelding mark of 2:11 1/2, set by Peter Stirling in 1901, by winning the second heat of the three-year-old sweepstakes in 2:04 1/2.

Peter Thompson's two heat victory was a great surprise.

M'Loughlin and Bundy in Finals at Tennis

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—M. E. McLaughlin and T. C. Bundy, the Pacific Coast lawn tennis doubles champions, won their places in the final round of the doubles in the New York State championship tournament here yesterday.

In their semi-final they defeated T. R. Pell and L. E. Mahan 3-6, 6-2, 9-7.

NASH TURNER'S HORSE WINS.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—The Prix des Tronees, a selling event of $800, distance ten furlongs, run at Deauville yesterday, was won by Nash Turner's Boogie II.

In the Fox Hecquet of $400, distance one mile and seven furlongs, W. K. Vanderlin, a Retham, finished second.

MAGEE'S ROWDYISM IS FORGIVEN JUST AS WAS O'ROURKE'S

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Sherwood Magee, star outfielder of the Philadelphia Nationals, who was suspended for the remainder of the season by President Lynch for an inexcusable attack on Umpire E. Tinnaman at Philadelphia 60 days ago, was today restored to good standing dependent upon his good behavior.

President Lynch took this action in view of the crippled condition of the Philadelphia team.

Magee will return to the game on August 18, when his team will have played every club in the league without his presence in the lineup.

JEFF MAKES A STIR IN ALASKA EVEN IF NOT AT RENO

JUNEAU, Alaska, Aug. 12.—James J. Jeffries, the pugilist, arrived from Seattle on the steamship Jefferson yesterday and began completing arrangements for his three months' hunting tour of Alaska.

Jeffries met the former champion at the wharf and followed him about the streets, jeering, who was in good humor, said that he would get a hunting permit tomorrow and start at once for his search for the big game of the north.

STOCKTON BOXING BOUTS.

STOCKTON, Aug. 12.—The Gateway City Athletic Club has arranged the following card for their show Friday, August 18: Main event, ten rounds, Joe McGurn of San Francisco vs. Jack Drummond of San Francisco; Roy Moore and Yankee Allen, six rounds; Eddie McLaughlin of San Francisco vs. Ollie Davis of Stockton, six rounds; Kid Frank of San Francisco vs. Kid Harris of Los Angeles, six rounds; Curley Flynn of Los Angeles vs. Archie Terry of Stockton, six rounds.

BOSTON, Aug. 12.—The Dodgers opened the series here by losing to the Boston Red Sox, 6 to 3. Bunched hits in the first five innings. In the sixth a single by Gibson and a double by Clark's single, Carey's sacrifice, an intentional pass to Wagner, a single by Miller and a home run by Wilson yielded four runs and the game score played, 6 to 0. The victory did not add to the Dodgers' record. The final score was: Boston, 6; Dodgers, 3.

JOHN I. TAYLOR WILL BEGIN RAID ON HIS CUB SENATORS

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 12.—Sacramento will probably lose three men out of this year's Coast League lineup. Pitcher Byron is certain to go East. The Boston Americans and Philadelphia Nationals have asked for a price on him. Manager Graham has announced his terms. He wants a cash consideration and two players in exchange, a catcher and an infielder. Graham believes Boston will exercise its option and take Thomas at the end of the season. Taylor, pitcher, and Thomas out, he figures there will be drafts in for Shinn, who has been playing the game since 1905. Taylor has been slugging the ball hard and has been running bases like a fiend.

SEALS FALL BEFORE ANGELS. Henry Berry came to town yesterday with a new green tie and told Captain Dillon to send a message to the Angels. The reason the men from the south gathered their second game of the four played.

The Angels and the Seals found him a hard proposition to hit, especially when his mits were something.

San Francisco, Panjoing, a Central Association recruit, started and he pitched shut out ball until the fifth inning and then he was hit by many of the Angels. He does not watch the bases, and this fault gave Dillon on Smith's lucky pole to right field.

Then Vut cut in with a bobbly and the bases were jammed. Howdy flew out and the Seals got over on a single by Daley. Then Panjoing went to the bench and a Noyes came in. Noyes failed to hit the rubber, but he did hit the good and the Seals found him a hard proposition to hit, especially when his mits were something.

ILLNESS BRINGS COUPLE TOGETHER

Dr. Charles F. Gladding Effects Reconciliation With Wife.

After a separation of several months Dr. Charles F. Gladding, for many years head physician at Folsom prison, and at the present time head surgeon for one of the Pacific steamship companies, has effected a reconciliation with his wife. The bringing together of the well-known Oakland couple was due to the illness of William Gladding, their son, who was stricken with a slight attack of scarlet fever some weeks ago.

When his son was first taken ill with the fever Gladding heard of it, and called at the residence of his wife, 620 Thirty-third street, offering his assistance. This was accepted, and the boy was nursed back to health, unconscious of the fact at the time that he was playing the role of reconciler.

Shortly after the separation from his wife the doctor, who was living alone at 1212 Grove street, created quite a commotion in medical circles by taking a quantity of strychnine with suicidal intent. He was found lying in his room and hurried to a local hospital before the poison had time to take effect.

MESSANGER TAKES THE TROPHY EAST

Silken Flag Sent to Champion of Navy by Battleship Maryland.

VALLIJO, Aug. 12.—Cunners's Mate John Riley, a grizzled old veteran of the cruiser Maryland, has left for the East as a special messenger carrying the silken trophy won by the new battleship Michigan in the recent target practice.

The pennant had hung at the post of honor on the Maryland for the last year, and as that was the second time this ship had proved to have the best marksmanship in the navy in five years, the crew had begun to look upon the trophy as permanent property. In order to impress upon the minds of the crew of the Michigan the extent of the honor won by their gunners, the officers and crew of the Pacific Coast vessel raised a party to pay the expenses of the messenger to Provincetown.

The refrigerator ship Glacier was docked at high tide late yesterday, and the status quo raised a party to pay the expenses of the messenger to Provincetown.

Wireless messages relayed from the stations in the far north bring the news that the transport Buffalo will reach Maro Island in about a month. The Buffalo has aboard about fifty mechanics from the navy yard here who are installing new wireless stations.

Captain Charles H. Harlow, United States navy, commanding the flagship California, intends to resist the action of the special retiring board, which has ruled that he is unable to complete his physical tests. The board has taken a recess until Harlow can present his case.

CHARGES PILE UP AGAINST JORDAN

Many Declare They Were Victims of Missing San Francisco Attorney.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—Charges of embezzlement and misdealing continued to pile up yesterday against Joseph H. Jordan, attorney, whose disappearance from his yacht Sea Fox while sailing in Raccoon Straits on the morning of July 26 has been alleged by the police to have been a carefully laid deception.

Julian H. Biddle, an attorney who is handling the investigation in behalf of the friends of Philip H. Dodd, who is supposed to have taken his own life in his office in the Mills building on July 8, has a mass of documents ready to present when the grand jury takes up the case of Jordan next Tuesday night.

Biddle yesterday telegraphed to the young southerner's mother, Mrs. Hennie C. Dodd of Atlanta, Ga., to send to him immediately all the papers, letters and telegrams which she has received bearing on the death of her son. Attorney Biddle will turn all these papers over to the district attorney.

WANTS ATTORNEY'S PROTECTION

James H. (Sam) Jordan went to the Mills building offices of Attorney Biddle and John G. Jury, Dodd's late law partner, last Thursday afternoon and asked them to give interviews to the newspapermen. In their opinion Dodd had committed suicide and thus exculpate Jordan from any connection with Dodd's death. The attorneys refused.

"Sam" Jordan called again on Attorney Biddle yesterday accompanied by a friend, Joseph Vinson, an employee of the Southern Pacific and a member of the Southern Club. Vinson told Biddle that he would help Jordan raise the $200 which he owes to the Dodd estate.

Another one of Joseph Jordan's speculations which dates back before the big fire came to light yesterday, was being employed as a stenographer by Attorney Francis V. Keeling, from whom Jordan embezzled $100 and fled to Honduras, the missing lawyer was employed in a like capacity by Attorney George Crothers, when Jordan stole several hundred dollars which my clients turned over to him," Crothers said. "He pleaded for forgiveness and I dropped the matter."

Members of the Southern Club, of which Jordan posed as secretary, are bitter against him. Those members who did not cash bad checks or lend him small sums are in the minority.

WM. JENNINGS BRYAN TO ENTER MINISTRY?

CENTRALIA, Ill., Aug. 12.—William Jennings Bryan, it is reported, is soon to enter the ministry and give up politics altogether. He is scheduled to deliver a sermon next Sunday evening from the pulpit of the Southern Methodist Episcopal church at Salem, Ill., his birthplace, near here.

Church services are to be dispensed with in other parts of that city and all will unite in one service at the Methodist church.

The subject of Bryan's sermon will be "Old Time Religion," and, it is said, will be criticism of the conditions of modern worship prevailing in many churches.

WOULD EXCHANGE HOME FOR LIVING

Man Who Thinks He Has Discovered Perpetual Motion in Straits.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Charles Rogers, who is 65 years of age, inserted an advertisement in the morning papers today offering to exchange his residence at Lake Geneva, Wis., which he values at $3500, for a home for five years.

For the last twenty years he has devoted his life to the solution of the great principle which scientists have classed among the unsolvable mysteries—the discovery of perpetual motion.

Mr. Rogers now declares that he has made his discovery and that it is destined to revolutionize modern mechanics.

Tiring of the ceaseless grind in his old age he has made one last attempt to dispose of the only property he has left. This he is willing to exchange for a place to rest and sleep. He fixes five years as the probable tenure. In that time he is confident he will be able to find someone who will add him in placing his discovery before the world.

SOCIALISTS AND FIREMEN AT WAR

City Employees Resent Criticism by Breaking Up Gathering.

TROY, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Local Socialists and the firemen of this city are at open war owing to the remarks made recently at a Socialist mass-meeting relative to the paid firemen which the latter say was insulting. A few days later another meeting was held in the public square not far from one of the fire houses and the firemen retaliated by making such a din that they broke up the gathering.

The Socialists complained to the Mayor and last night, when another meeting was scheduled in the same place, the police reserves were on hand to maintain order. The firemen were not frightened by this display of force, however. When the speaker of the meeting was introduced a nerve-racking din commenced on the roof of the house. Tin pans, rattles, fire cornets, automobile horns and other devices were brought into commission. After several ineffectual efforts to make himself heard the speaker announced that the meeting would continue farther down the street. The firemen followed and continued the racket until the meeting finally broke up.

The matter will be taken formally before the city officials tonight.

ASKS REFORM IN STATE ASYLUMS

Governor Hadley Would Make Them Real Hospitals for Cure of Insane.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 12.—Governor Hadley wants the state insane asylums to be made more in the nature of hospitals and less like houses of detention. His views on the subject are contained in letters sent today to the superintendents of the state asylums. He says the main object of the institutions should be to cure the patients, not simply to imprison them. He asks for detailed information as to the treatment and results obtained. The Governor declared that as soon as a patient is admitted to an asylum a thorough investigation should be made with a view to affecting a cure. He expresses the hope that good results will come from the new system of classing for certain forms of insanity now being tried at the St. Joseph asylum.

NAVY YARD NOTES

MARE ISLAND, Aug. 12.—Repairs to the amount of $65,000 are to be made on the refrigerator ship Glacier, which was docked here yesterday afternoon, where it will remain for at least thirty days.

That Captain Charles H. Harlow, commanding the flagship California of the Pacific fleet, intends to resist being retired at this time on account of physical disability is evidenced by the fact that the retiring board has taken an indefinite recess to permit Captain Harlow to prepare his side of the case.

Wireless messages relayed from the stations in the far north bring the news that the transport Buffalo will return to Mare Island in about a month. The Buffalo has aboard about fifty mechanics from the navy yard here who are installing new wireless stations.

Joe French, a lightweight boxer, has arrived in Vallejo and is anxious to get a bout with Sammy Trinkle of the cruiser Maryland or "Battling" Robinson of the flagship California. French hails from Tuolumne.

Major Young, U. S. A., came up to Mare Island yesterday on board the tug Slocum and inspected the work on the ordnance additional repairs on the Thomas, which will detain the ship until October. Two racing cutters were shipped from the yard to Bremerton yesterday for the cruises St. Louis and Milwaukee. Surgeon H. Hoyt reported for duty at the dispensary yesterday.

FRENCH SCIENTIST CREATES TADPOLE

Battalion Brings Forth Life From an Egg; Has Wriggling Proof.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—Scientific circles are aroused by the announcement here that Battalion, a French scientist, with laboratories at Dijon has at last solved the great problem of science and succeeded in creating life. But the original statements are now modified.

Battalion says: "I, a Californian, and Delage in France have succeeded in producing life artificially from the egg of the sea urchin, which is the lowest form of animal life. My own experiments have been along similar lines, except that I have worked on higher forms of life. I have succeeded in 'creating' a frog."

"It was done with an egg, which was pierced in a manner similar to that followed in making the sea urchin. The process was long and uncertain. Out of all my experiments I can show at the present time only one tadpole now alive. The others I have created have quickly died, although I succeeded in keeping them alive until they developed into frogs."

SAYS HUSBY MADE MURDER THREATS

Mrs. Kate Harvey Alleges Cruelty in Complaint for Divorce.

Claiming that her husband had on numerous occasions within the last few months made demands, accompanied by threats of murder, that she denied to him half of her property, amounting to a considerable sum, Mrs. Kate Harvey has filed suit against Samuel Harvey for divorce.

The couple reside at 1220 Thirty-seventh avenue, this city. The complaint alleges various instances in which Harvey returned home in an intoxicated condition, each time making threats. The couple were married in 1900 and it appears that all went well until January of this year, when it is alleged that Harvey first asked for half of his property. She refused and Harvey thereupon flew into a rage, it is said, threatening to kill her. He was restrained by Frederick Spear, the woman's son, who ran out of the house and summoned neighbors.

Again, on May 18, Harvey left home and returned intoxicated, his wife says, several hours too late for dinner, which he had ordered. On June 6 of this year he again threatened to kill her, upon again being refused half of the property, flew into a rage and said:

"PREDICTED MURDER."

"This will lead us into trouble yet. This makes me so nervous I know it will lead me into trouble. It will lead me to murder you yet. For you I expect to go to jail." At the same time he is alleged to have advanced toward her in a threatening manner, then left the house and was gone for three days, returning in an intoxicated condition and telling her that he had packed his diamond ring to purchase liquor.

On June 28 he threatened to kill her, the plaintiff says, and then said he would, even if he were hanged for it. On July 31 he repeated the same performance according to the complaint, and as a result she became fearful of her personal safety. Things then ran along until August 9, when Harvey packed up his belongings and left the house. His wife finally decided to seek a divorce.

A restraining order was issued against the defendant yesterday by Superior Judge Waste. Mrs. Harvey, who was formerly Kate Spear, at one time owned a lodging house in San Francisco valued at $75,000, possessed a large bank account and numerous realty holdings in this and Contra Costa counties.

4800 POUNDS OF GOLD PAID BY S. P.

First Installment of 1911 Taxes Sent to the State Treasurer.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 12.—The Southern Pacific Company paid the first installment of last year's taxes, amounting to $4,825,147, to State Treasurer E. D. Roberts yesterday. The greater part of the payment was in gold, of which there were 56 sacks, weighing 4800 pounds.

This payment of tax money brings the amount of taxes received since July 10 up to approximately $3,000,000. One-half of the 1911 taxes, approximately $5,250,000, is due before 6 o'clock Monday, August 14.

State Controller Nye stated yesterday that of the 19,600 corporations in the State on which assessments were made, less than 9000 had paid the first installment. Nye said there is a danger of several thousand of the lesser corporations incurring the delinquency penalty of 10 per cent on the first payment, unless they pay their taxes before Monday night.

HEARS TRUE NAME AFTER 34 YEARS

Former Oaklander Has Been Living as H. F. Smith Since Birth.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 12.—Michael Ferguson, groceryman at Twenty-fifth and K streets, knows his real name for the first time since his birth. He has been known until yesterday as H. F. Smith. For years he has been trying to get trace of his parents. He is 34 years old.

He now knows his right name and where he was born, but he still desires more information concerning himself. His parents came from England. He was born in Sacramento, but his mother died shortly after and he was placed in a San Francisco orphan asylum. He was adopted two or three years later by a family in Oakland.

Ferguson ran away because he was not treated right and came to Sacramento, where he lived with a Mrs. Smith. He took her name and had gone by it ever since. By an advertisement in a local newspaper he learned his true name, and is endeavoring to find out something about his father and other relatives.

HARBOR BOARD TO PROBE ACCOUNTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—The State Board of Harbor Commissioners has decided to inaugurate a new system in both the auditing and purchasing departments.

As a preliminary step Commissioner Thomas S. Williams proposes to have the books of the board audited. This was begun by the Stafford board about a year ago, but before the completion of the work the experts were discharged, it is said.

Though Williams would not say that he expected to discover any further discrepancies in the affairs of the purchasing department, he admitted that the investigation of the experts would be thorough and that the purchases for the past few years would be gone into thoroughly.

"Whether we discover anything crooked or not, we will be certain of one thing," said Williams, "and that is that hereafter there will be no repetition of the deplorable conditions that have obtained in certain departments. Under the system of segregation under which the board will now handle the work this would be impossible."

"Each of the commissioners has charge of certain work. Each of us is devoting his entire time to the discharge of these duties, and nothing can be put through without being passed upon by the proper head of the department under which the matter belongs. Instead of leaving matters entrusted to its employees each item will be scrutinized by at least one of the commissioners."

MANY IMPROVEMENTS ON STANFORD CAMPUS

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Aug. 12.—Over $100,000 is being expended this summer on the university campus in new buildings and improvements. The money is spent by the students in building new fraternity houses and repairing athletic fields. The Sigma Nu fraternity is building a new $19,000 house on the hill near the new homes of Delta Delta Delta, Delta Tau Delta and Gamma Phi Beta. This fraternity has formerly lived on Alvarado row. Delta Chi, the largest fraternity, took the old "Tri-Delt" house on Salvadora street last year, is also building a new chapter house on the hill. This is the only professional fraternity at Stanford that occupies a house.

Over $20,000 has been expended being made on the athletic grounds and the cinder track is being renovated and put into first-class condition. A new swimming tank is under construction on the new gymnasium, which was practically destroyed in 1906.

WALL STREET PUT CRIMP IN FORTUNE OF GATES

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The Wall Street Journal says: "Estimates of John W. Gates' fortune at from $40,000,000 to $50,000,000 are all guesses. A cable dispatch published in the Wall Street Journal July 7 that John W. Gates was seriously ill in Paris, and that if he passed away he would leave a fortune of $20,000,000, has not been confirmed. It was information. There is reason to believe that at one time Gates was worth between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000 in market values. After he was 'crimped' and 'bent' in Wall street he devoted his attention to his Texas oil interests."
